

GERMAN NOTE SUGGESTS WARSHIP ESCORT FOR NEUTRAL MERCHANTMEN

EDGES NOT DRAW BACK AT ALL FROM HER FORMER POSITION AS MISTRESS OF SEAS.

LOOK FOR SUBMARINES

Dutch Vessels Warned to Be Guarded
When Approached by All Craft—
General War News.

Berlin, via London, Feb. 18.—The reply of Germany to the protest of the United States against a blockade of British waters is couched in the most friendly terms, but firmly maintains the position of Germany as already announced.

An unofficial communication from Vienna says that the Russians have been defeated in Galicia and the Austro-Hungarian army has occupied Kolomea. A report from the Russian war office, however, asserts there is no change there. It says that the Russians have won the advantage in several engagements in Galicia.

Turkey has yielded to Greece and offered satisfaction to the Greek naval attaché at Constantinople.

Fourteen members of the crew of the Zeppelin which was destroyed over France, were rescued and will be interned by Danish authorities.

amount of these shipments show that the Germans are not now satisfied in speaking of friendly relations."

Attitude of Neutrals.

Since Germany must compel the nation with which she is at war to return to the recognized principles of international law and restore the freedom of the seas, she argues that the stand she has taken is necessary.

The note continues that the United States government send warships to England to convey neutral vessels through the danger zone as security against attack with the understanding that vessels thus guarded shall carry no war supplies. How this will be understood the position in which Germany has been placed and appreciate the reason for its course.

The reply closes with an expression of the hope that the United States may prevail upon Great Britain "to return to the principles of international law recognized prior to the outbreak of the war," and in particular obtain the observance of the London Convention by belligerents to Germany. If this were done, the note explains, Germany would be enabled to import food supplies and raw materials. Germany would recognize in this, said the reply, an invaluable service toward a more humane conduct of the war and would act in accordance with the new situation thus created.

Wait for Reply.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Germany's note to the American note on the naval war zone around the British Isles, has not been received today at the state department. Dispatches on other matters from Ambassador Gerard filed in Berlin yesterday said he had delivered the American note, but that the German note had not been delivered to him. The outline of the German reply contained in news dispatches, however, commanded close attention in official and diplomatic quarters, but comments were being reserved until after the text has been received.

Praise Gray's Position.

London, Feb. 18.—The morning papers unite in expressing warm approval of the reply of the foreign secretary. The Daily News says:

"Europe is reeling into barbarism. The last note from us but the position of the Washington government is none the easier for it.

The Telegraph says: "Sir Edward Gray exposes the spring of British policy with a completeness which we believe will carry conviction in America. We hitherto have used the tremendous weapon of sea power, with every reasonable restraint, but by Germany's illegal and outrageous conduct and defiance in our benevolent intent, and now our results for the allies to announce the exact character of their measures to increase the economic pressure on the enemy."

Blockade Effects Seen.

London, Feb. 18.—The morning papers unite in expressing warm approval of the reply of the foreign secretary. The Daily News says:

"Europe is reeling into barbarism. The last note from us but the position of the Washington government is none the easier for it.

Danish Boats Sail.

Copenhagen, Feb. 18.—Ten Danish steamers left here today bound for England. Most of them are loaded with foodstuffs.

Ships at Rotterdam.

Rotterdam, Feb. 18.—No ships have arrived at this port since 7 o'clock last night. The Holland-American line and the Holland-American line departed presumably for America. Two Dutch steamers left for England. Several Dutch tugs are being used as freight boats for service between Dutch and English ports.

Invaders Driven Out.

Berlin, via London, Feb. 18.—The president of the Province of East Prussia at Königsberg has received a following telegram from Emperor William: "Who had been on the eastern battle front:

Prisoners Total 64,000.

Berlin, Feb. 18.—The official report on the progress of the fighting given out in Berlin today says that the Russian prisoners by the Germans in East Prussia now amount to 64,000 men.

Austrians Capture Town.

Vienna, Feb. 18.—Official reports given out in Vienna says that after two days of hard fighting the Austrians have occupied the town of Kolomea, in Galicia.

Russian Statement.

Petrograd, Feb. 18.—The general staff of the Russian army has issued a report on the progress of the fighting as follows:

"On the right bank of the Vistula the fighting has been going on in almost the same localities with great ferocity in certain sections.

"In the region of the Niemen river, we have found only patrols of the enemy.

"On the left bank of the Vistula there has been no change.

"In Galicia we repulsed an attack on the Khava-Vikorotch front with great losses to the enemy. Further to the east the enemy endeavored to attack us in the region of Louben-Stoudine, but without success.

Pfanschmidt has had three trials, being found guilty once.

LLOYD'S RISKS AS TO WAR ARE REPORTED ON INCREASE

Lloyd's today at 20 guineas per cent on policies covering the holder against war between the United States and Germany within six months. One month ago the premium for this same risk and period of time was 6 guineas per cent.

"One can read only with pleasure those parts of the German answer which refer to American supplies to England and France," he said. "We see to this that these shipments of weapons to our enemies have filled public opinion in Germany with deep indignation and bitterness against the United States. Statistics of the

HAMBURG LINE HAS NO SHIPS FOR SALE OFFICER TESTIFIES

Nine Small, Obsolete Crafts Are All That Company Would Dispose of to Any Purchaser.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Feb. 18.—Only nine of the Hamburg-American line's smallest and most obsolete vessels are for sale, Wm. G. Sickel, one of the two American vice presidents of the corporation today told the senate investigation committee.

Advices from headquarters in Hamburg, he said, show it was able to stand the losses of the war for five years, and that he and his assistants have positive instructions to make no sacrifice because of financial conditions in Germany.

No Government Advances.

He testified that he had no reason to believe any of a hundred or more persons who had inquired of the company wanted to sell ships since the outbreak of the war, either directly or indirectly represented the United States.

The Kron Prinz Wilhelm was formerly a North German Lloyd liner. The vessel left New York on August 30 ostensibly bound for Bremen, and since her departure from the American port her whereabouts have been a mystery. On one occasion she was reported to have been sighted by British cruisers while transiting a cargo of coal to the German cruiser Karlsruhe at a point off the Bahamas. Both German vessels succeeded in eluding the British warships at that time.

No Extra Session.

President Wilson had virtually decided not to call an extra session of congress on March 5, no matter what the state of the ship bill. No official announcement of his intentions was made, but in congressional circles it is well understood.

ZEPPELIN DESTROYED IS TEUTON'S LARGEST

Gigantic Airship, L-3, Forced to Land When Fire Broke Out, Threatening to Explode Bombs.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, Feb. 18.—The Zeppelin destroyed by explosion on Fance Island was the L-3, one of the three in commission. She was completed in 1914 and was 550 feet long, had a diameter of 61 feet, and displaced 32 tons. She was supplied with four motors with a total horse power of 720 and had a speed of forty knots. Commandant Trinh said that the situation when the fire broke out was critical.

The airship had been flying over the Suez Canal, which is the only route from England to India.

When the fire broke out it was critical. The crew had to abandon the airship would explode before he could get to ground with a crew of fourteen, now interned by Danish authorities.

Concord Report.

Amsterdam, Feb. 18.—A dispatch received here from Berlin confirms the reported loss of the Zeppelin L-3. This morning says that the airship was reconnoitering the west coast of Jutland when on account of trouble, it came down during a storm. The ship was lost, but all members of the crew were saved.

HINDU TROOPS REVOLT
AT STRAIT SETTLEMENT

English Marines Landed at Singapore From Jap and French Warships to Quell Uprising.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Tokio, Feb. 18.—A revolt has broken out among the Hindu soldiers at Singapore, one of the Strait Settlements, according to Great Britain, according to newspaper dispatches received here today from the Malay archipelago.

Marines were landed at Singapore from Japanese and French warships and some fighting has taken place between the mutineers and men from the war vessels.

The Hindu mutineers number 800, but later half of this number is reported to have surrendered and the revolt is said to be subsiding.

TURKEY YIELDS TO DEMANDS OF GREECE

Constantinople Official Visits Greek Legation and Expresses Regret at Insult Offered.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, Feb. 18.—Turkey has yielded to the demand for satisfaction made by Greece because of an insult offered to an attaché of the Greek legation.

The director general of police of Constantinople, it is officially announced, has visited the Greek legation in that city and in the presence of all members of the staff he formally expressed his regret at the insult offered the Greek attaché. He further promised that official communication to this effect would be published in the press.

The incident is now regarded as closed.

PFANSCHMIDT NOT GUILTY SAYS JURY

Verdict Marks Third Trial Accused Man Has Experienced—Found Guilty Once.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Quincy, Ill., Feb. 18.—Ray Pfanschmidt was found today not guilty of the murder of Anna Elma Kaemper by a jury at Princeton, Ill. The verdict marked the third time that Pfanschmidt has gone through for death of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pfanschmidt, his sister, Blanch, and Miss Kaemper, a teacher, who were found murdered in ruins of the Pfanschmidt home near this city September 29, 1912.

Pfanschmidt has had three trials, being found guilty once.

LLOYD'S RISKS AS TO WAR ARE REPORTED ON INCREASE

Lloyd's today at 20 guineas per cent on policies covering the holder against war between the United States and Germany within six months. One month ago the premium for this same risk and period of time was 6 guineas per cent.

"One can read only with pleasure those parts of the German answer which refer to American supplies to England and France," he said. "We see to this that these shipments of weapons to our enemies have filled public opinion in Germany with deep indignation and bitterness against the United States. Statistics of the

GERMAN SHIP DOCKS WITH CAPTURED CREW OF BRITISH VESSELS

Steamer Holger Arrives in Buenos Aires Bringing News of German Success Against English Ships.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Feb. 18.—The German steamer Holger, which has arrived here, brings news that during the month of January and February the German auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz Wilhelm, operating on the northern coast of Brazil, sank the British steamer Protaro, and sailing ships Samatra and Wilfred. The crews of these vessels are on board the Holger.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 18.—The German

steamer Holger, which has arrived here, brings news that during the month of January and February the German auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz

Wilhelm, operating on the northern coast of Brazil, sank the British steamer Protaro, and sailing ships Samatra and Wilfred. The crews of these vessels are on board the Holger.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 18.—The German

steamer Holger, which has arrived here, brings news that during the month of January and February the German auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz

Wilhelm, operating on the northern coast of Brazil, sank the British steamer Protaro, and sailing ships Samatra and Wilfred. The crews of these vessels are on board the Holger.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 18.—The German

steamer Holger, which has arrived here, brings news that during the month of January and February the German auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz

Wilhelm, operating on the northern coast of Brazil, sank the British steamer Protaro, and sailing ships Samatra and Wilfred. The crews of these vessels are on board the Holger.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 18.—The German

steamer Holger, which has arrived here, brings news that during the month of January and February the German auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz

Wilhelm, operating on the northern coast of Brazil, sank the British steamer Protaro, and sailing ships Samatra and Wilfred. The crews of these vessels are on board the Holger.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 18.—The German

steamer Holger, which has arrived here, brings news that during the month of January and February the German auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz

Wilhelm, operating on the northern coast of Brazil, sank the British steamer Protaro, and sailing ships Samatra and Wilfred. The crews of these vessels are on board the Holger.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 18.—The German

steamer Holger, which has arrived here, brings news that during the month of January and February the German auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz

Wilhelm, operating on the northern coast of Brazil, sank the British steamer Protaro, and sailing ships Samatra and Wilfred. The crews of these vessels are on board the Holger.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 18.—The German

steamer Holger, which has arrived here, brings news that during the month of January and February the German auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz

Wilhelm, operating on the northern coast of Brazil, sank the British steamer Protaro, and sailing ships Samatra and Wilfred. The crews of these vessels are on board the Holger.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 18.—The German

steamer Holger, which has arrived here, brings news that during the month of January and February the German auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz

Wilhelm, operating on the northern coast of Brazil, sank the British steamer Protaro, and sailing ships Samatra and Wilfred. The crews of these vessels are on board the Holger.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 18.—The German

steamer Holger, which has arrived here, brings news that during the month of January and February the German auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz

Wilhelm, operating on the northern coast of Brazil, sank the British steamer Protaro, and sailing ships Samatra and Wilfred. The crews of these vessels are on board the Holger.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 18.—The German

steamer Holger, which has arrived here, brings news that during the month of January and February the German auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz

Wilhelm, operating on the northern coast of Brazil, sank the British steamer Protaro, and sailing ships Samatra and Wilfred. The crews of

The Janesville Gazette

New Bldg. 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.
ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESEVILLE
WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATUR-
DAY EVENING.Member of Associated Press.
Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.
Member of Wisconsin Daily League.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Increasing cloudiness with probably rain or snow
Friday and west
portion tonight;
warmer in east
portion tonight;
colder in west
portion Friday.DAILY EDITION
TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION
BY CARRIER

|                                     |        |
|-------------------------------------|--------|
| One Year                            | $6.00 |
| One Month                           | .50    |
| One YearCASH IN ADVANCE         | $5.00 |
| Six Months                          | .25    |
| Three Months                        | .125   |
| One YearBY MAIL CASH IN ADVANCE | $4.00 |
| Six Months                          | .20    |
| RURAL DELIVERY IN ROCK COUNTY       | .00    |
| One Year                            | $3.00 |

The publication of Obituary Notices, Resolutions, Cards of Condolence, etc., can be made at 5c for a printed line of 6 words each. Church and Lodge announcements free. 1 insertion except those announcing an event for which a charge is to be made. These and subsequent insertions of any notice are made at line prices.

The Gazette does not knowingly accept false or fraudulent advertising or other advertising of an objectionable nature. Every advertisement in its columns is printed with full confidence in the character and reliability of the advertiser, and it is true that the representations made by readers of The Gazette will confer a favor if they will promptly report any failure on the part of an advertiser to make good any representation contained in a Gazette advertisement.

GAZETTE JANUARY CIRCULA-TION.

Sworn circulation statement of the Daily Gazette circulation of January 1915.

| Days    | Copies/Days     | Copies |
|---------|-----------------|--------|
| 1.....  | Holiday 17..... | Sunday |
| 2.....  | 763118.....     | 7534   |
| 3.....  | Sunday 19.....  | 7529   |
| 4.....  | 763120.....     | 7536   |
| 5.....  | 763121.....     | 7565   |
| 6.....  | 763222.....     | 7565   |
| 7.....  | 761523.....     | 7571   |
| 8.....  | 761524.....     | 7584   |
| 9.....  | 758525.....     | 7584   |
| 10..... | Sunday 26.....  | 7585   |
| 11..... | 758527.....     | 7546   |
| 12..... | 758528.....     | 7629   |
| 13..... | 758529.....     | 7582   |
| 14..... | 753430.....     | 7590   |
| 15..... | 753431.....     | 7590   |
| 16..... | 7534.....       | Sunday |

Total 189,363 divided by 25 total number of issues, 7575 Daily Average.

This is a correct report of the circulation of the Janesville Daily Gazette for January, 1915, and represents the actual number of papers printed and circulated.

H. H. BLISS, Mgr.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this first day of February, 1915.
(Seal) O. C. HOMBERGER, Notary Public.

My commission expires July 26, 1915.

PAPER GALORE.

Stored in barns, leaky warehouses, even in unknown places, some twenty years' supply of print paper, purchased by the state for some of its progressive experiments, is waiting use. Even the books of the secretary of state do not show how much paper is really on hand and the supply is roughly guessed at. Stop and think of that! Forty to fifty thousand dollars' worth of print paper, bought, the Lord knows for what purpose, stored, the Lord knows where, for which the state is paying sixteen hundred dollars a year storage, on hand to further an experimental form of government at the expense of the taxpayers. It was not enough to unearth twenty thousand dollars' worth of useless printed material in the basement of the new capitol, material which is out of date, for which there was not any use in the first place, but which cost the state thousands of dollars, being sold for common junk. No, this was not enough, but now the investigation committee finds this print paper. The printing clerk, a pressman by the way, not a printer at all, appointed for political purposes, admits that the paper was bought because it was expected to be used, but was not. Think of that! Think of the waste of state monies! Think of the cost of reform spelled with a big "R"? When they probe deeper they will find even worse conditions. This paper item will pale to insignificance when the final count is made. The offices of the state treasurer, the attorney general and the secretary of state, all held by anti-administration men, are supposed to be responsible for the purchase of these supplies. If the heads of these departments can clear their skirts of the actual purchase by laying the blame on the purchasing clerk they will show themselves sadly remiss in their duty by not knowing what was actually being done in the department they were supposed to be watching over. However this is but a part and parcel of the whole system of state extravagance that is being uncovered. It means that the investigating committee is going to make recommendations for some radical legislation that is going to wipe out any opportunity for loss or abuse of public funds and betrayal of public trusts by officials drawing state pay. One of the staunch adherents of the last political regime is now just finishing his term in Waupun for wrong doing and it would be a surprising event if there should be some other accusations made of men who were not implicated before, but whose skirts are by no means free from suspicion. It is a criminal waste of public funds and the one discovery of actual waste merely means the unearthing of a lot of rat-holes that have been put up and painted over in hopes of hiding the conditions that really exist.

NO REAL REASON.

There is no real reason for getting unusually excited over the German admiral's order that became effective last night. It is three-quarters bluff, for what it proposes to accomplish is not within the powers of Germany to do. Paper blockades are not new in the history of warfare and international law does not recognize them. Of course one will say that this war is being conducted on the part of England and the allies without regard to law. Others insist that Germany has ignored the law and its requirements. Still other adherents of the German emperor will insist that the Russian does not understand the meaning of law, while as to the Serbs—pough! they know nothing.

However the paper blockade became effective, "on paper" last night. An underwater blockade it is to be. This is unthinkable. It is a dream that even Jules Verne in his "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," did not dream of. His Captain Nemo never anticipated such a condition. Of course it will have a certain military value to Germany. It will incite its citizenship to further their efforts to bring about a victory, this tale that England would starve them out. It can not help but have a similar effect upon the recruiting of Lord Kitchener's second, yes his third army, that will drill and place in the field later.

That a few roving submarines can destroy the shipping of a nation that has twice the number of submarines that the German navy possesses is simply preposterous to imagine. It is a wild dream of the imagination—too wild to be given credence.

If the German cruisers and battleships dare not come out from their stronghold to confront the English men of war waiting anxiously for them, then why imagine that a mere paper blockade by a German minister of marine, meant simply to scare a people already dreading destruction by air flights of unknown machines, should affect the world as a whole. It is simply ridiculous to imagine that England can be blockaded and starved out in the way threatened. Let the blockade go on. But also beware that no American ships are sunk.

WELL REPRESENTED.

Rock county is well represented in the present legislature by L. C. Whitter, speaker of the assembly, and A. J. Wimberly of Beloit, member from the second district. Both men are thoroughly awake to the needs and requirements of the county they represent and both willing and anxious to be of service. Not is this connection should Laurence E. Cunningham of Beloit, senator representing the twenty-second senatorial district, comprising Rock and Walworth counties, be forgotten. Mr. Cunningham is equally interested in his constituents and their wishes and will be found always on the firing line in behalf of their interests. Speaking of the district one must not overlook George L. Harrington of Walworth, the only assemblyman from that county, whose interests are identical with those of Rock county, and will not be found wanting. Few counties and few senatorial districts in the state have as efficient men at Madison this winter alive to the needs and interests of their constituents. The voters are to be congratulated in their selection of representatives.

Talking about baseball. This idea of placing a league team in Janesville should meet with ready response from the citizens generally. If it can be accomplished for three thousand dollars it is an experiment worth trying. Only for heaven's sake if we go into the game let us have a team that will be in the first few contenders, not a tail-end.

One day we read of the great victories of the allies and the next of the bravery of the Germans in capturing this or that French and English line of trenches. Go to it gentlemen. Perhaps Lord Kitchener was right when he said the fighting had not yet begun, but still we are inclined to agree with Sherman that "War is H—".

It is refreshing to read a dispatch that amidst all this war alarm, an English expedition for the exploration of the South Polar regions is really at work. It makes one wish for the stirring days of peace once more when bread was five cents a loaf and wheat did not sell for dollar sixty or more.

Assembleyman George P. Hambræcht's bill making Lincoln's birthday legal holiday in Wisconsin, has passed through the committee room booked for passage. It is a belated honor to one of the great men of the country that Wisconsin can do well to respect.

The baseball teams have begun their spring training trips, so soon we may expect something else other than the horrors of the battlefield to read about. It will be the slaughter of the Yannigans by the Yorningans, or something like that.

Evidently that presidential "ship purchase measure" is one of the class of ships that "can not pass either in the night or day," considering all reports to be true.

On the Spur of the Moment
ROY K. MOULTONThe Day's News.
Wheat is going up a-kitting.
And the farmers are all writing for new touring cars and such.
Everything as gold they touch.
Dental work once gained attention.
Now it is too easily obtained.
Mortgages are passe now.
Millionaires, they guide the plow.
Goddess Fortune is the charmer.
Who's transformed the plodding farmer.
To a dude who has, perchance,
Fifteen pairs of Sunday pants.
Marble bathrooms in the dwelling.
Bank accounts forever swelling.
Gone forever is the "rube."
Gone also the "rural boob."
Wheat's the thing that's made the killing.

THE JANESEVILLE DAILY GAZETTE

New Bldg. 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.
ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESEVILLE
WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATUR-
DAY EVENING.Member of Associated Press.
Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.
Member of Wisconsin Daily League.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Increasing cloudiness with probably rain or snow
Friday and west
portion tonight;
warmer in east
portion tonight;
colder in west
portion Friday.DAILY EDITION
TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION
BY CARRIER

|                                     |        |
|-------------------------------------|--------|
| One Year                            | $6.00 |
| One Month                           | .50    |
| One YearCASH IN ADVANCE         | $5.00 |
| Six Months                          | .25    |
| Three Months                        | .125   |
| One YearBY MAIL CASH IN ADVANCE | $4.00 |
| Six Months                          | .20    |
| RURAL DELIVERY IN ROCK COUNTY       | .00    |
| One Year                            | $3.00 |

THE JANESEVILLE DAILY GAZETTE

New Bldg. 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.
ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESEVILLE
WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATUR-
DAY EVENING.Member of Associated Press.
Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.
Member of Wisconsin Daily League.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Increasing cloudiness with probably rain or snow
Friday and west
portion tonight;
warmer in east
portion tonight;
colder in west
portion Friday.DAILY EDITION
TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION
BY CARRIER

|                                     |        |
|-------------------------------------|--------|
| One Year                            | $6.00 |
| One Month                           | .50    |
| One YearCASH IN ADVANCE         | $5.00 |
| Six Months                          | .25    |
| Three Months                        | .125   |
| One YearBY MAIL CASH IN ADVANCE | $4.00 |
| Six Months                          | .20    |
| RURAL DELIVERY IN ROCK COUNTY       | .00    |
| One Year                            | $3.00 |

THE JANESEVILLE DAILY GAZETTE

New Bldg. 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.
ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESEVILLE
WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATUR-
DAY EVENING.Member of Associated Press.
Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.
Member of Wisconsin Daily League.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Increasing cloudiness with probably rain or snow
Friday and west
portion tonight;
warmer in east
portion tonight;
colder in west
portion Friday.DAILY EDITION
TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION
BY CARRIER

|                                     |        |
|-------------------------------------|--------|
| One Year                            | $6.00 |
| One Month                           | .50    |
| One YearCASH IN ADVANCE         | $5.00 |
| Six Months                          | .25    |
| Three Months                        | .125   |
| One YearBY MAIL CASH IN ADVANCE | $4.00 |
| Six Months                          | .20    |
| RURAL DELIVERY IN ROCK COUNTY       | .00    |
| One Year                            | $3.00 |

THE JANESEVILLE DAILY GAZETTE

New Bldg. 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.
ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESEVILLE
WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATUR-
DAY EVENING.Member of Associated Press.
Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.
Member of Wisconsin Daily League.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Increasing cloudiness with probably rain or snow
Friday and west
portion tonight;
warmer in east
portion tonight;
colder in west
portion Friday.DAILY EDITION
TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION
BY CARRIER

|                                     |        |
|-------------------------------------|--------|
| One Year                            | $6.00 |
| One Month                           | .50    |
| One YearCASH IN ADVANCE         | $5.00 |
| Six Months                          | .25    |
| Three Months                        | .125   |
| One YearBY MAIL CASH IN ADVANCE | $4.00 |
| Six Months                          | .20    |
| RURAL DELIVERY IN ROCK COUNTY       | .00    |
| One Year                            | $3.00 |

THE JANESEVILLE DAILY GAZETTE

New Bldg. 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.
ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESEVILLE
WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATUR-DAY EVENING.

The Great Coal and Coke Trust Has Just Paid a Fabulous Sum to the Inventor of a New Process of Making Coke, Whereby They Can Increase the Efficiency Ten Per Cent.

If you will have your teeth put in you will increase your health efficiency fifty per cent.

You will flesh up and feel better at once.

Bad teeth are a constant poison to the whole body.

D. F. T. RICHARDS
(Over Rehberg's.)

No Matter What Your Income May Be

You must save a part of it if you would be successful.

Financial independence can be had only by systematic saving. Good intentions pay no house or room rent.

Open a Savings Account in this bank.

3% - interest compounded twice yearly.

The First National Bank
Established 1855.

PURE MILK

JANESEVILLE PURE MILK COMPANY

SOUTH THIRD STREET EXTENSION.

Assessment Notice
Office of City Treasurer,
Janeville, Wis., Feb. 16, 1915
The Assessment Roll and Warrant for the collection of the special assessment tax for the extension of South Third Street from its present terminus in Forest Park Addition to Ridgefield, now in my hands and all persons interested are requested to make application at the office of the City Treasurer in the City of Janeville or before March 15th, 1915.

GEORGE W. MUENCHOW,
City Treasurer.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

WANTED—Delivery boy at once. No. Jan Bros. 5-2-18-31.

WANTED—Carpenter work of all kinds, price reasonable. Call new phone 868 White. 2-2-18-31.

FOR SALE—One new improved Neostyle, also two good letter presses. The Janeville Machine Co. 13-2-18-31.

FOR SALE—Two single comb White Orpington cockerels. Nichols Store. 22-2-18-31.

FOR SALE—Full blooded Guernsey bull nine months old, large enough for service. F. J. O'Brien, Rte. 8, Janeville, old phone. 21-2-18-31.

WANTED—10 tons of hay, no clover. N. Schwartz. 6-2-18-31.

FOR SALE—Good leather couch. Call 625 Milton Ave. 16-2-18-31.

HOTEL WILSON—Workingman's meals and lunch, at all hours. Rooms day or week or without board; home cooking. 73 S. River St. 10-2-18-31.

OPPOSE REPEAL OF LAW WHICH PROHIBITS LABOR AND BUSINESS ON SUNDAY

SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE
Madison, Wis., Feb. 18.—The Budget, to repeal the law which prohibits certain labor and business on Sunday, and which would authorize county boards to prohibit on Sunday work which is not of necessity for charity, met strong opposition at the hearing before the assembly state affairs committee. Theatrical interests were particularly opposed. They were represented by Attorney R. W. Beckman, Madison, and Charles W. Phillips, both of moving picture interests. The Seventh Day Adventists also appeared against it through Rev. H. V. Reed of Fairweather. Assembyman Budlong and F. M. Higgins, Lake Geneva editor, advocated the bill.

Senator Everett spoke briefly before the senate state affairs committee in favor of his bill, denying hunting licenses to persons not United States citizens, saying that there is too much pronostic hunting by aliens having as yet too little knowledge of customs and laws. Other bills scheduled for hearing before this committee were postponed.

Meet Tonight: The Boys' Cabinet Bible Class of the Y. M. C. A. will meet tonight at 8 o'clock promptly. Each member has provided the money which will go to make up the supper. Thirty minutes of study on the life of Joseph is the program.

Meet Tonight: The Young People's Society of the Norwegian Lutheran Church meets this evening in the church parlors at 8 o'clock. Everyone is invited to attend.

Skating at the Rink Saturday night.

T. P. BURNS.

BILL DELUGE BRINGS RADICAL PROPOSALS

ABOLITION OF HIGHWAY COMMISSION, "BILL FACTORY," AND BARBERS' BOARD ASKED.

SWAMP BOTH HOUSES

Nearly Four Hundred Measures Introduced During Last Day of Grace Allowed.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Feb. 18.—The abolition of the state highway commission, the legislative reference library and the state barbers' commission were proposed in bills introduced in the assembly last night, when a final deluge of 196 bills reached the clerk's desk. This made a total of 396 bills introduced in the assembly alone on Wednesday to bring the record of bills introduced to about the same record as two years ago. The bill to abolish the state highway commission was offered by Assemblyman Ellingson; the measure to abolish the barbers' board was offered by Assemblyman Crosby and the one to kill the legislative reference library came from Assemblyman Nelson.

Assemblyman Klemestrel offered a bill for a committee of three senators and four assemblymen to make an investigation into the subject of unemployment, old age pensions for teachers, judges and policemen. Assemblyman Heim of Madison presented a bill to amend the corrupt practices act so as to bring such organizations as the state teachers' league within the law. Ganner presented a measure to repeal the stock and bond act as applied to railroads and public utilities, and Ellingson presented a measure that repeals the one-sixth mill tax for the support of the normal schools of the state. Assemblyman H. C. Burpee was at Chicago today.

Frank A. Pember transacted business today at Chicago.

John Poupol is in Chicago on business.

Mrs. M. McDermott of Winthrop, Minn., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. G. K. Glass of Pearl Street.

Miss Doris Amerpohl of Clark Street has been ill at Mercy hospital but has so far recovered that she has returned home.

H. C. Casey of this city, was a business visitor in Edgerton, Wis., on Tuesday.

George Weirick of Beloit, was in this city today on business.

Margaret Thorne returned to Northwestern University at Evanston this morning after spending a few days at home.

Assemblyman Hedding of Milwaukee offered a bill to regulate the sale of school text books; Julius Hanson, a measure that will require the industrial commission to publish all of the evidence that it has gathered relative to the sale of liquor and the methods by which the traffic is conducted in the state. Assemblyman Kleinstrahler is the author of a bill which will permit town boards, the trustees of a village and the council of cities of the third and fourth classes to appropriate $100 annual for band concerts. Many of the bills were offered by title. Assemblyman Dooley of Superior offered a bill to joint committee of the legislature to investigate the cost of clearing land by different methods. Assemblyman Caldwell offered a bill for a county highway system.

Senate Also Swamped.

Seventy-five bills came into the state in last night's session. The final date for enacting new legislation.

Most of them were read by title, the bills not yet appearing because of insufficient time to have them drafted. As a result, it was difficult if not impossible to learn the purpose of most of them.

Among the more important measures received were the following:

Ackley—Exempting farmers from the workers' compensation law.

Bray—For a standing joint committee on departments, officers and employees.

Tomkins—For county option on the matter of extending the right of suffrage to women on all county, town, village and city issues.

Bossard—Prohibiting common law marriages.

Martin—Creating the position of county auditor.

Bossard—Appropriating $5,000 to John A. Ayward and M. B. Olbrich for services in defending Herman L. Ecker in court proceedings in 1913.

Bossard—Providing for organization and government of cities under the commission manager plan.

Jennings, by request—For the indeterminate sentence for criminals, and regulating the paroling of convicts.

Hanson—Completely revamping the corrupt practices act.

Tomkins—Constitutional amendment, restoring the power of the state to engage in forestry.

Water Power Measure.

Tomkins—Constitutional amendment, giving the state power to acquire, develop and conserve water-power.

Tomkins—For a revolving fund of $30,000 to fight forest fires in emergencies.

Tomkins—For state aid for highways and schools in the forest reserve.

Ackley—For retirement of supreme court justices and circuit judges on pension after 20 years' service and 70 years of age.

Ackley—Authorizing cities to construct and maintain dams for public purposes and to acquire developed and undeveloped water-power sites within or without limits.

Ackley—Prohibiting depositing or accumulation of glass in public highways.

The committee on state affairs reported for passage the C. H. Everett bill prohibiting issuance of birth control license to any non-U. S. citizens.

Despite the fact the bill was killed at Tuesday's session, petitions continued to come in last night praying for the defeat of the Bennett bill resealing the teachers' retirement fund law. Most of the petitions came from Eau Claire.

See Troy at the rink Saturday night.

BASEBALL MEN ARE MOST ENTHUSIASTIC

Prospect for Janeville Having Team in Bi-State League Becoming Brighter.

Prospects that sufficient funds will be subscribed to place a Janeville team in the field in the Bi-State League are becoming brighter and more every day. Thus far a third of the subscription needed to assure its success had been signed up and as much more had been promised. It is planned now to hold a mass meeting of those interested in the scheme a week from Friday night, February 26th, at which time definite action can be taken, officers elected and arrangements made for completely financing the undertaking. Tomkins, living in the Madison "fans" meet and will decide on their plans for the season and the promoters of the league believe that they have solved the problem of reducing expenses to a minimum by selecting cities close together where railroad fares will not play such an important part in the expenses as they did in the old Illinois-Wisconsin league.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Thuerer announce the arrival of a nine pound girl.

John E. Kennedy transacted business at Brodhead today.

F. C. Burpee was at Chicago today.

John Poupol is in Chicago on business.

Mrs. M. McDermott of Winthrop, Minn., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. G. K. Glass of Pearl Street.

Miss Doris Amerpohl of Clark Street has been ill at Mercy hospital but has so far recovered that she has returned home after spending several weeks, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hall of Lynn street.

The birthday club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George McKey of East street on Tuesday evening. The occasion being a surprise to Mr. McKey, in honor of his birthday.

Mrs. William Judd of St. Lawrence avenue entertained an auction bridge club at her home this afternoon.

Miss Wilma Soverhill of Washington street gave a musical tea this afternoon at half after four, to the members of her music class. After the tea a program was given.

Abram Benneau of Juda, has returned home after spending several weeks, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hall of Lynn street.

W. C. Van Velzer of Delavan is spending the day in Janeville.

William M. Noble of Rockford is a business visitor in this city today.

P. J. Johnson of Genoa, Ill., is spending the day in Janeville.

The Art League will have a meeting Feb. 19. A picnic luncheon will be served at one o'clock. Each member is requested to bring a box of lunch and also bring pictures of themselves when they were children, which are to be shown with a stereopticon by Mrs. E. A. Hall.

Miss Anna Klingbisl, formerly of this city, now of Beloit, is ill at the Beloit hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Atwood of South Main street are spending several days in Milwaukee, the guests of friends.

Miss Mary Gibbons is spending a few days at home from Beloit.

Mr. and Mrs. William More of Prospect are Milwaukee visitors this week.

Miss Belle McLean was a Beloit visitor on business on Wednesday.

Heinie Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor of Clark street, is at Mercy hospital where she underwent an operation a few days ago.

She is reported as doing well.

Mrs. William Pond has returned from a short visit with friends in Beloit.

Phillip B. Whitehead is in Chicago where he will deliver a lecture before the history class at the University of Chicago on Friday.

Mrs. George Parker of Court street is spending several days in Chicago.

Miss Julie Pierce of Johnstown is spending a few days in the city the guest of Mrs. Frank Thompson of West Milwaukee street.

Earl Winter, who was seriously injured while coasting on Fourth avenue hill recently, is about recovered and will be out in a few days.

Mesdames Catherine Bidwell and Harry Townsend have returned from Brodhead where they were called by the snow storm.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson of Racine, Kenosha, Elkhorn, Lake Geneva, Walworth, Elkhorn, Clinton and Allen Grove. Our knights are for a very enjoyable time.

Horace Wilcox of Beloit college was here Tuesday, a guest at the home of Sonja Cooper.

Dr. and Mrs. William Crawford returned home last evening from Chicago where they had been most of the winter with their son and wife.

Ed. Peterson was here Tuesday visiting his mother, Mrs. Hannah Peterson, north of town.

Dr. W. O. Thomas was called to Chicago on Tuesday to see a cousin who is very sick.

Mr. Frank Rader of Capron, Ill., was here Monday on business.

Mrs. William Brossell of near Sharon was here Wednesday calling on her numerous friends and old neighbors.

See Troy at the rink Saturday night.

Sent to Beloit: Jack Hart, the young man who appealed to the police department to find his parents, was given transportation to Beloit by his parents this morning. Hart ascertained he had relatives in that city, and left for Beloit this noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brossell were passengers to Beloit Wednesday morning.

A. M. Bowen went to Rockford Wednesday morning.

The Mesdames Townsend of Janeville, were guests at the home of their uncle, James Dooley, and returned home Wednesday.

The Misses Webermeir, Miss Streeck, Mrs. A. Knudson, Mrs. Oscar and Mrs. K. O. Loftus were visitors in Janeville Wednesday.

Henry and May Loomis were passengers to Chicago Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Tom Johnson was the guest of Orfordville friends Wednesday.

Attorney Burdette Sprague was in Monroe Tuesday night to attend a meeting and banquet of the County Bar Association.

Mrs. Wash Mitchell returned Wednesday from a few days visit with friends in Beloit.

J. C. Murdoch spent Wednesday in Monroe.

Mesdames Elmer Ehning, Leslie Fahrman and Wm. Clark spent Wednesday in Albany the guests of Mrs. George Sauters.

REV. S. T. KIDDER.

SHERIFF TAKES MILLER TO WAUPEN PENITENTIARY

Sheriff Del Chamberlain left this morning for Waupen with Fred Miller who was given eighteen months in prison for burglary during the night time by Judge Maxfield yesterday afternoon.

Since Miller refused or could not give any information where the silverware stolen from the McCue flat was hidden, the police are at a loss on how to find the property. When William Barry was released he was shadowed by one of the patrolmen in plain clothes but he went directly to the intersection for Beloit. The theory offered is that Barry and Miller went through the flat, but Barry escaped suspicion in having Miller carry the loot while he disposed of the silverware.

The greatest clearing sale of the year ends Saturday evening. Still plenty of good bargains left. Come in and get yours before Saturday evening.

T. P. BURNS.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

LOYALTY THAT ISN'T LOYALTY.

To live in Rome and refuse to do as the Romans do may be excusable under some circumstances. But to live in Rome and talk about nothing but the superiority of Greece or Sparta—well I cannot think offhand of any circumstances which would justify that.

And tell her how many people have no more tact or kindness than to do it!

An Easterner goes West. Instead of opening his mind and heart to take in all he can of the atmosphere of the new country from those he meets, he antagonizes them by talking constantly of how much better we do these things in the East. Nor is the Westerner inclined to be any more humble. He doesn't see how the Easterner can stand being cooped up in such small spaces. He thinks Eastern manners are cool, he depreciates Eastern hospitality. "Come West," he says, "and we'll show you a real country."

The City Girl and the Country Girl. The city girl goes to visit her country friend. If one were to judge her willingness to prolong her stay, she is having a pretty good time yet she cannot refrain from constantly asserting the superiority of the city in one way or another. She doesn't see how the country girl gets along without the theatre. "And how hard it must be not to have any shops handy. Of course you can buy a supply of things when you come to the city, but how can you ever tell what you are going to want for the next three months. Why I often run in town two or three times a week."

When she finds that the library is only open once a week, she is much dismised. "Isn't that funny. Why I supposed all libraries were open every day. Ours is open evenings and Sundays, too."

Doubtless the country girl who reads this thinks, "Well that's only the bad breeding to be expected from the city girl. That's the way they always act." Wait a moment, the coat on before you make so sure it wouldn't fit you. You see I know one of your number who visited in the city and did just the same thing.

Jingoism and Patriotism.

Is such assertion really loyalty? Isn't it more an uneasy desire to impress one's superiority on others?

Loyalty is deeper and calmer. It is not so easy to give a good account of its own when asked. It is quick to spring up in defense of its own if its own is attacked, but it is never aggressive and disagreeable.

There is the same difference between this aggressive assertion of the superiority of one's home and a natural loyalty to it that there is between Jingoism and patriotism.

Everybody loves a patriot.

When in Rome, love your Greece or your Sparta all you want, but don't brag about it.

Heart and Home Problems

BY MRS. ELIZA BETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of twenty-one years. Three years ago I was engaged to be married and six weeks before the appointed time

I found out that he righteously belonged to another. I told him that I could never marry him, knowing that another had a claim on him. He then said that although I would be constantly in his thoughts, he would do his duty as I had done.

He married another and they are very unhappy, but no more unhappy than I am. The longer that I am away from him the more I love him. Have I done right since we are all so unhappy?

Now he is very sick and the doctor says that he has only a short time to live. At times when raging in fever he constantly calls his name and asks to come and him before he dies. The doctor told his wife to send for me, but she refused, saying that she hated the very sound of my name. She forgets what she owes to me and I have never uttered a word against her.

The doctor called on me and told me all, saying to call on him as a friend and not say anything of what he told her. What would you do if you were in my place? He is more to me in this than I can ever before. I can't let him go without saying something.

HEART BROKE, VIRGINIA.

My dear girl, follows the doctor's advice; go to him as if the visit were your own idea. If his wife refuses to let you see him, have a plain talk with her and let her know what she owes you. You ought to be considered. You did a very noble thing, and if the outcome was unhappiness, you were certainly not to blame.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of seventeen and I am keeping company with a boy the same age.

(1) Are we too young to keep company? (2) How late should he be? (3) How often should we go out? (4) Should I send post cards to another boy? (5) Should the boy take the girl's arm? (6) Should we wear one another's ring? (7) BLUE EYES.

(1) My dear girl, you are not too young to go with a boy, but you are too young to be serious. (2) 10:30.

(3) Not oftener than twice a week. (4) Certainly. (5) It is customary for the boy to take the girl's arm. (6) No. It is silly and cheapening to a girl of seventeen.

DEAR MRS. THOMPSON: (1) Please give me a nice recipe for fruit salad and how and when should it be served.

(2) For what purpose are guests towels used? THANK YOU.

(1) Peel three oranges and slice them lengthwise, also cut three bananas in thin slices. Skin and seed half a pound of English walnuts.

Serve very cold on lettuce leaves, dressed with four tablespoons of oil, two tablespoons of lemon juice—less if the oranges are sour, and half a teaspoonful of salt. Salad should be served after the meat course.

(2) A guest towel is for a guest who will use it only once or twice.

It is easier to launder than a larger towel.

DEAR MRS. THOMPSON: We are two chums fifteen years of age.

We have a boy friend of ours who has been angry for a month.

How can we find out his reason for being so?

MARJORIE AND HELEN.

My dear girls, perhaps you have made it too evident to the boy that you care for him. If I were you I would not try to find the reason why he is angry. He might think you are running after him.

DEAR MRS. THOMPSON: Please give me a recipe for kidney bean salad.

EDDY.

Mix with mayonnaise dressing one cup of beets, one cup of peas, one cup of carrots and one cup of kidney beans. Serve on lettuce leaves.

DEAR MRS. THOMPSON: I am a girl

keep my important papers."

I surely wish you had; it would have been easier for me. I am held responsible for papers I haven't touched.

You have a clutter of all sizes and colors of papers, many of them loose, on top of the desk.

They get brushed off, blown off, and destroyed, and as I am the only one in the house, I did it. That desk surely is a trial. Move it out and look behind it," she suggested, as Dick plumped the basket down on the floor after the unsuccessful search.

"It is so heavy I can't move it to clean behind."

"That's fortunate. I'll rig up a secret pocket back there where you can't molest things."

"Now, see here, Dick Morton," Nell turned on him with flashing eyes.

"There, there, keep your shoes on, dear," he interrupted patronizingly. "It's my turn to be up in the air, for I am the one inconvenienced. We mustn't both fly the track at once, you know. It delays traffic too much."

"Oh, here's the blooming thing. It has tumbled down behind the desk."

"The country's saved," said Nell, fervently.

"And the honor of the lady of the house is vindicated," added Dick.

"Now, Dick, I think even you will see that some different arrangement must be made about your papers."

She was straightening the disordered room. This place looks as if it had been visited by a tornado."

"You always say 'even you can see' as if I had the worst eyesight in the world," laughed Dick.

"You have, when it comes to taking in disorder. Some men," she added with impressive emphasis, "are overly about their desks, but you make much work for me."

"Is thy servant a dog," that he should do this thing?" and Dick, rolling up his eyes.

Nell laughed a little in spite of herself, but added, returning to her judicial air: "There's always a right way to do things."

"How platitudeous!" exclaimed Dick in a tone that always closed the library table, and—"Oh, even a man can see that."

"Well, a man surely fails to see why he must spend half the valuable time he has for a piece of work looking for material his wife has tucked away somewhere. I wanted it right where I left it, so I could go on with my work without loss of time."

Dick was going over the papers again with his wife's help and their united efforts failed to bring it to light.

"Look in the paper basket," suggested Nell. "Papers were blowing all over the room yesterday. Your beautiful system fails to provide for airing the room, and I like my bedroom to look as neat and orderly as the living room."

"This everlasting order gets on my nerves," Dick was pawing in the basket trying to discover something that resembled the missing paper.

"It is here, there," he announced bel-igerously. "I guess I made a mistake in not getting a closed desk, so

I could lock it up to prevent its being dusted, and then perhaps I could concerned.

"Now I am open to suggestions, but I don't agree to follow them."

announced Dick, after a pause during which order had been restored. "Why don't you clear out the wide front drawer for papers you are working on? They will be out of the dust and all ready to go to work on without any delay. Any special little paper might be slipped under the big broad head," he said, patting the pretty broad hat up and kissing her. "Now, I have hindered you long enough, run out to your desk," and he seated himself at his desk.

THEY'RE ALL HER BOYS AND WRITE HER REGULARLY.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Indianapolis, Feb. 18.—Mrs. Emma Ellis received another letter today from one of her boys. She gets letters of this kind every day and answers them quickly. The letters are from boys in the navy who have no mothers, and they write to mothers in Indianapolis who have adopted the boys in their homes.

The letter came to Mrs. Ellis half a year ago, and she has since then saved the mothers, commanding officers in the navy training camps and the sailors themselves know about it until today, for Mrs. Ellis did not seek publicity.

"I know how lone some motherless boys in the navy must be," said Mrs. Ellis. "I wrote to several commanding officers in the navy training stations asking for names of boys who have no mothers and who would like to correspond. The list has steadily grown. I never choose a mother to write to these boys until I have learned to know her personally as a good Christian woman, well educated, who can feel deeply. She must be accomplished letter writer—one who can really inspire the boy given over to her."

Mrs. Ellis has many letters from commanding officers in the navy, who will traverse the world to find a good home for the boys. The invitations recite the need for terminal facilities if the territory traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

traversed by the rivers is to be improved by the expenditure of $200,000 voted by congress to improve the three rivers.

The invitations recite the need for

terminal facilities if the territory

FALL OF NARGODZ BAD FOR RUSSIAN FORCES

UNEXPECTED JUNCTION OF GERMAN AND AUSTRIANS TRAPPED RUSSIAN DIVISION.

FEAT OF 'WHITE CROWS'

Austrians Put on White Clothing and Reach Unsuspecting Russians Unarmed by Traveling Over Snow.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Vienna, Feb. 18.—After the capture of Nargodz in Russian Poland last week by a combined force of Germans and Austrians, it was learned here that this was effected only by the opportune junction of two converging German and Austrian columns during a daring night attack on Nargodz in a manner recalling George Washington's surprise of the Hessians at Trenton.

The final junction is the midst of the night battle was the work of a small party of white-clad Austrian snowshoers who unexpectedly appeared in the Russian flank at the moment when the head of the German column was delivering a surprise frontal attack on the sleeping village. The Austrian snowshoers who figured in this sensational exploit now have been nicknamed by their German comrades the "white crows."

The following letter describing the exploit has been received here from a Viennese officer who led the snowshoe patrol:

We had left behind us the last rifle pits and barricades which lay on our extreme north wing and were advancing toward a dark wood. Between us and the wood there was a vast snow field, which glistened in the moonlight. The dazzling whiteness of this made the scene brighter than day, and we knew that patrols of Cossacks were not far off.

Disguised in White.—"How to get over this field without being seen was the question. I ordered the men to sit down; unpack knapsacks and to put on their white undershirts and drawers over the outside clothing. In a few minutes a troop of ghosts was before us. One squad I sent ahead. Later we followed."

"The patrols set out, and at thirty paces they were already invisible. The white figures were so solid, indistinguishable from the snow surface. The rest of us lay on a ridge with our hands on our rifles, ready to fire at any moment. Thirty minutes had passed without a sound and we were at the highest pitch of tension when a man whispered to me: 'A dark point seems to be coming toward us from the northern entrance of the village. There are two. They are creeping along stealthily.'

I looked sharply in the direction he mentioned, and sure enough, there was a bunch of men. I whispered: 'Don't stir. We shall capture them. But wait first till they are right on us.'

"Minutes of breathless suspense passed, when suddenly, as if rising out of the snow, the corporal I had sent out ahead stood before me. 'Nargodz is strongly held by our enemy. There are intrenchments and barricades before and on the side of the entrance to the village. I am bringing ten prisoners with me.'

I stared at him incredulously. But there were the prisoners before me. That was the dark point we had seen. They were Cossack scouts. When they were clad in white, sprang at the Russian scouts their rifles fell from their hands in surprise, and them, who knew some German, said: 'There is a division in the village with forty-eight cannon. Three lines of intrenchments surround the place.'

"I gave orders to the corporal to take the prisoners back to the headquarters of our command. Scarcely had we gone when the wind brought us from the north the sound of three shots, and immediately afterward we heard a volley.

When the Germans Came.—"Our German brothers are there," I cried. "We are to fight together with them. Get across to them." As we hastened to where the firing was two of my snowshoers of our flank patrol came running toward us and reported: "The German detachment has fallen in with the bulk of the enemy. It is possible for us to make a flank movement from here."

We determined to try this, and in about twenty minutes we began to pour a destructive fire from near at hand into the flank of the Russians.

Every shot hit. The surprised enemy looked for us in vain. We were mere white spots on a white field. The wild retreat of the Russians had begun and the wounded behind, and the next moment were shaking the hands of our German comrades. They were Silesian Landwehr. After their first surprise they burst into laughter on seeing us. Since then they call us jokingly "the white crows."

The commander thanked us for our report and called on us to join in the storming of the village. Twenty minutes later Nargodz was ours, with Russian guns.

BRITISH ENVY CAUSED WAR SAYS STATESMEN

Norwegian Minister Gives Personal Views that Growth of German Navy Caused and Started the Conflict.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Copenhagen, Feb. 18.—Pointing out that the primary cause of the war was British envy of German progress and fear of her as a rival, Sigurd Ibsen, former Norwegian minister-president and son of the great dramatist Henrik Ibsen, comments on the conflict in the Copenhagen National League as follows:

"History would have taken a different course if Europe had been able to free itself from a political system which sooner or later was bound to break down completely. And who is responsible for that system? None and all! No great power planned the system, but all have contributed to its present development."

It was not Germany, but France, that introduced the race for armaments. That struggle began in 1886 when Boulanger carried the army bill.

"On the other hand, Germany and her allies paved the way for the formation of the political syndicates whereby Europe was divided into two armed camps. But the triple alliance between Germany, Austria and Italy was planned as a guarantee of peace and really served that object as long as no group of rival powers opposed it. Not until France made an alliance with Russia did the position of things alter when England joined the two powers in the balance of international relations was destroyed. War could no longer be avoided."

"However fundamental the points of difference between the nations of Europe may have been, attempts are not wanting to bring about a mutual amity and understanding. All these friendly attempts were shipwrecked by incurable mistrust. England regarded the growth of the German navy as a menace, and Germany could not possibly endure the British encroaching policy." Even Grey had recognized at the eleventh hour the impossibility of continuing such a policy, for on July 30 he wired to the British ambassador in Berlin that after the crisis was over he would advocate a better understanding among the great powers.

BUILDING BODIES DO BIG BUSINESS

Wisconsin's Co-operative Building and Loan Association Show Substantial 1914 Aggregate.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison, Wis., Feb. 18.—The annual report of building and loan associations, made to the governor by Commissioner of Banking, E. K. Kuhl, on Tuesday, shows a condition of marked prosperity for these organizations, which now number 70.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable business and financial conditions of the year, and the consequent heavy withdrawals of funds by stockholders of these associations, says the report, "the largest annual aggregate increase during 1914 was experienced during 1914."

Assets at the end of the year totaled $12,290,881.63, as compared with $10,456,499.21 on Dec. 31, 1913, a gain of $1,834,382.63. The percentage of increase was 17.5% for the year, as compared with 20% for 1913, and 18% for 1912.

Thirty-six of the 70 associations are in Milwaukee county. The increase in business of these organizations had been slow up to 1903. In the last six years it has been marked. The commissioner attributes it to the fact that the confidence of the public in these institutions has been restored because of careful state supervision and examination under strict laws.

The city-state, Hamburg, has an area of 160 square miles, and is exceedingly rich in agricultural, meat, dairy and fruit produce, while the city proper covers but 21 square miles. The city is a great concentration house for Germany and for the world, an enormous part of the empire's import and export passing through its warehouses. Only one harbor, that of Hamburg, is that of Hamburg, and that harbor is New York. There is little world piety about Hamburg. It is as strictly a growth of business and overseas as is the city of New York. Such buildings of historic interest as there are in the city, such art and Bohemian life as it possesses, are so effectively crowded into the background by high office buildings, congestions of cumbersome freight drays, the sirens and smoke at the harbor front, and the peculiar expressions of every hand speaking of "profits and loss," of "cent per cent," that they remain unsuspected by visiting Americans, who feel themselves more thoroughly a proper part of Hamburg than any other German city, not excepting Berlin. There are few statues, few museums, few levels of architecture, few things of any genre whose being is derived less from critical advantage than from sentiment.

Residential and business Hamburg lies upon the north bank of the Elbe, while along the south bank stands Hamburg, for thousands of yards, an hundred of channels, harbors, canals and slips, worked out in a great, weird tangle of wharves, warehouses, passenger piers, elevators, bridges, railways and all manner and description of ships and products for shipping. Many millions of dollars have been spent in the development of this marvelous harbor.

"The inner, or business, city, is composed of an 'old' and a 'new' town. The new town, modern in every way, arose out of the ashes of the great fire of 1842. The 'old' town is for the most part a warehouse district, and it is picturesquely surrounded by numerous canals. The pride of Hamburg is the beautiful promenades around the Binnen Alster, a lake made by the spreading of the Alster river within the heart of the city. Facing this lake, upon the Neuer and Alter Jungfern Heide and cafés of the city, the lake is in many circumference, and is dotted with steamers and row-boats carrying Hamburg's pleasure-boat populace."

At the first selamlik (public audience) of the new sovereign Egyptian politicians and foreigners only were present. The Mohammedan population was absent.

The number of British troops is estimated at from 40,000 to 50,000, mostly very young men, inexperienced and lack of training are obvious. Recently they were re-enforced by 2,000 Australians, who have the appearance of being well trained. The Indians were transferred to France because the British do not trust them. It is rumored that more than 300 Indians who were stationed in Egypt have joined the Turkish colors.

Strong fortifications, in which 170 guns have been mounted, have been thrown up along the canal. That the English are preparing themselves for a long and bloody campaign may be conjectured from the great number of field hospitals. The great Hotel San Stefano in Alexandria has been converted into a hospital.

Berlin, Feb. 18.—Describing conditions in Egypt as bordering on open political and religious revolt, the recently deposed chief reader, now at Constantinople, is quoted indirectly as follows in a dispatch from the Poste to the Vossische Zeitung:

"At the first selamlik (public audience) of the new sovereign Egyptian politicians and foreigners only were present. The Mohammedan population was absent.

The number of British troops is estimated at from 40,000 to 50,000, mostly very young men, inexperienced and lack of training are obvious. Recently they were re-enforced by 2,000 Australians, who have the appearance of being well trained. The Indians were transferred to France because the British do not trust them. It is rumored that more than 300 Indians who were stationed in Egypt have joined the Turkish colors.

Strong fortifications, in which 170 guns have been mounted, have been thrown up along the canal. That the English are preparing themselves for a long and bloody campaign may be conjectured from the great number of field hospitals. The great Hotel San Stefano in Alexandria has been converted into a hospital.

Remarkable also is the great number of wounded brought in daily, presumably from the theater of war near the border. The English commander in chief, General Maxwell, arrested thousands whose allegiance to British interests was doubtful, kept them jailed for nearly two months and then had them transported to Malta. The censorship is very strict. The newspapers appear with many columns of white space.

The English condition in the protectorate is critical; commerce has stopped altogether, and taxes are enormous.

ABE MARTIN

There's lots o' volunteers in our army o' unemployed. Mr. Wooster Ames is visitin' at the Moots home. He's pleasant t' meet, but hard t' shake.

CITY OF HAMBURG IS THE N. Y. OF EUROPE

National Geographic Society Vividly Describes Great German Metropolis in Statement.

A picture of Hamburg, which is described as the "New York of Europe," is drawn by the National Geographic Society in a statement prepared today. It follows:

"Hamburg, the great German city on the North Sea, mentioned so often in press dispatches these days, is the New York of Europe. In fact, it has the same proud consciousness of its riches and a great commerce, the same ceaseless insouciance about things and people, the same restless wealth-hunger from the stranger. Much as American boys flock from all over the country to try fortune in New York, German boys turn toward Hamburg, the chief city which is the trading heart of Germany. The two Hamburg and New York are the greatest of all seaports. Hamburg, prior to the present war, did more business than any other port in the world except New York.

Both Hamburg and New York are islands of foreign soil in their native lands. Before the war, Hamburg was English and French in tone. In Hamburg alone of all the German cities, the people earnestly drink tea between four and five o'clock in the afternoon. Everywhere else in the fatherland, coffee, sweet breads and rich cakes are served punctually at four o'clock. Both of the world's first cities are cosmopolitan to a point of wild confusion; every tongue and custom being native to their manner, the common denominator for the reduction of a world of peculiarities being found in their counting houses and exchanges.

The city-state, Hamburg, has an area of 160 square miles, and is exceedingly rich in agricultural, meat, dairy and fruit produce, while the city proper covers but 21 square miles. The city is a great concentration house for Germany and for the world, an enormous part of the empire's import and export passing through its warehouses. Only one harbor, that of Hamburg, is that of New York. There is little world piety about Hamburg. It is as strictly a growth of business and overseas as is the city of New York. Such buildings of historic interest as there are in the city, such art and Bohemian life as it possesses, are so effectively crowded into the background by high office buildings, congestions of cumbersome freight drays, the sirens and smoke at the harbor front, and the peculiar expressions of every hand speaking of "profits and loss," of "cent per cent," that they remain unsuspected by visiting Americans, who feel themselves more thoroughly a proper part of Hamburg than any other German city, not excepting Berlin. There are few statues, few museums, few levels of architecture, few things of any genre whose being is derived less from critical advantage than from sentiment.

Residential and business Hamburg lies upon the north bank of the Elbe, while along the south bank stands Hamburg, for thousands of yards, an hundred of channels, harbors, canals and slips, worked out in a great, weird tangle of wharves, warehouses, passenger piers, elevators, bridges, railways and all manner and description of ships and products for shipping. Many millions of dollars have been spent in the development of this marvelous harbor.

"The inner, or business, city, is composed of an 'old' and a 'new' town. The new town, modern in every way, arose out of the ashes of the great fire of 1842. The 'old' town is for the most part a warehouse district, and it is picturesquely surrounded by numerous canals. The pride of Hamburg is the beautiful promenades around the Binnen Alster, a lake made by the spreading of the Alster river within the heart of the city. Facing this lake, upon the Neuer and Alter Jungfern Heide and cafés of the city, the lake is in many circumference, and is dotted with steamers and row-boats carrying Hamburg's pleasure-boat populace."

At the first selamlik (public audience) of the new sovereign Egyptian politicians and foreigners only were present. The Mohammedan population was absent.

The number of British troops is estimated at from 40,000 to 50,000, mostly very young men, inexperienced and lack of training are obvious. Recently they were re-enforced by 2,000 Australians, who have the appearance of being well trained. The Indians were transferred to France because the British do not trust them. It is rumored that more than 300 Indians who were stationed in Egypt have joined the Turkish colors.

Strong fortifications, in which 170 guns have been mounted, have been thrown up along the canal. That the English are preparing themselves for a long and bloody campaign may be conjectured from the great number of field hospitals. The great Hotel San Stefano in Alexandria has been converted into a hospital.

Remarkable also is the great number of wounded brought in daily, presumably from the theater of war near the border. The English commander in chief, General Maxwell, arrested thousands whose allegiance to British interests was doubtful, kept them jailed for nearly two months and then had them transported to Malta. The censorship is very strict. The newspapers appear with many columns of white space.

The English condition in the protectorate is critical; commerce has stopped altogether, and taxes are enormous.

MANY YEARS' SUPPLY OF PAPER ON HAND

Investigating Committee Find Unknown Amount of Print Paper Purchased by State.

Madison, Wis., February 17.—What is considered important testimony was given by George S. Post, secretary of the state printing board, E. F. Bunn, a clerk in the office of the board of public affairs, before the investigating committee at Monday's hearing. Mr. Post referred to the hours of employees and admitted that the method of keeping track of the hours of work put in has been lax.

Mr. Bunn testified that the state has on hand more than $40,000 worth of raw material in the way of printings, which varied as follows: 8,277 reams and 8,577 sheets of high grade paper, used for the printing pamphlets and stationery; 1,028,400 envelopes; 336,303 pounds of newsprint paper.

It was brought out that the last item was purchased in a ten carload lot for the purpose of printing the pamphlet. Enough was ordered to last twenty years, basing the demand on the amount used in 1914.

It was testified that the paper and envelopes are stored in three warehouses in Madison, for which the state pays $1,600 a year rent, as follows:

Hugh Lewis' barn on Pinckney street, rent $100 a year. Nothing has been removed from this barn in the last fourteen months.

Old Dodge warehouse, opposite West Madison depot, rent $40 a month. The roof of this warehouse is full of holes and there is ice and snow on the floor and on the paper. The building is falling down and much of the paper will never be used, according to the witness.

T. S. Morse Paper Company warehouse, rent $75 a month.

According to the witnesses, it is impossible to get at the cost of the paper stock, for the reason that some of it was purchased so long ago that the inventory has been lost.

The printing board hopes that all of the paper purchased and not used still is in the warehouses but has no way of checking up.

H. Dahl, former state treasurer, appeared Tuesday before the committee and said that as a state officer he had always fought for greater economy in the cost of state printing.

George S. Host, secretary of the state printing board, explained why the state purchased enough paper for the printing of the campaign pamphlet which was based upon the size of the campaign pamphlet issued in the state of Oregon, but the pamphlet did not take as well in this state.

Gov. Philipp was present at the hearing.

ing that the state paid $2,000 for a Kissel car for the use of the executive office. The car was driven by a man on the pay roll in the state printing board. The committee will seek further information as to the purchase of the car and for what purposes it was used.

Clean wiping cloths, buttons and hooks-off will bring 2 1/4 per pound cash at the Gazette office.

Gov. Philipp was present at the hearing.

ing that the state paid $2,000 for a Kissel car for the use of the executive office. The car was driven by a man on the pay roll in the state printing board. The committee will seek further information as to the purchase of the car and for what purposes it was used.

Clean wiping cloths, buttons and hooks-off will bring 2 1/4 per pound cash at the Gazette office.

Gov. Philipp was present at the hearing.

The Westfield Pure Food Page

Reflecting each Thursday the Food Standards of Westfield—The Pure Food Town

The Greater Safety of Canned Foods.

The National Canners' Association and the Westfield Movement.

</

'TIZ' GLADDENS SORE, TIRED FEET

No puffed-up, burning, tender, sweaty feet—no corns or callouses.

"Happy!"

"Happy!"

"Use 'TIZ'."

"TIZ" makes sore, burning, tired feet fairly dance with delight. Away go the aches and pains, the corns, callouses, blisters, bunions and chilblains.

"TIZ" draws out the acids and poisons that puff up your feet. No matter how hard you work how long you dance, how far you walk, or how long you remain on your feet, "TIZ" brings restful foot comfort. "TIZ" is magical, grand, wonderful for tired, aching, swollen, smarting feet. Ah! how comfortable, how happy you feel. Your feet just tingle for joy; shoes never hurt or seem tight.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" now from any druggist or department store. End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and happy. Just think! a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents.

Milton Junction News

Milton Junction, Feb. 17.—Mrs. W. E. Bowers has been entertaining Mrs. Cox and son of Syracuse, N. Y.

Mrs. Ezra Goodrich is numbered among the sick.

Mrs. Dunn Frink fell on the icy walk yesterday, receiving slight injuries.

Mrs. Geo. Stone spent yesterday in Beloit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Upmire of Jefferson, have been visiting her sister, Mrs. Hettie.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cox, who were married at North Crystal Lake, Ill., recently stopped here to visit Mrs. Helen Kern on their way to Oshkosh.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Palmer have gone to Bethel to visit relatives.

Miss Hazel Stewart, formerly of this place, now of Albion, was united in marriage to Clarence Lowton on Feb. 15 at her home. After a short wedding trip they will be at home to their many friends at Albion.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Ladies: Mrs. A. C. Anderson, Miss Emma Barrett, Mrs. C. Campbell (2), Blanche R. Chamberlain, Miss Elizabeth Darick, Helen Jones, Miss Elsa Lange, Mrs. Mary Lange, Miss Laura Martens, Miss Amette Maxwell, Miss Emma Smaling, Miss Elizabeth

Gents: T. R. Baker, William Brand, Claude Brock, Sam'l T. Carr, Geo. Elmer, C. B. Johnston, G. L. Kendall, W. E. Laughlin, Mrs. E. Lawes, Mr. Murphy, M. Rosenberger, Christie Ryan, A. E. Vernerlin F. Young.

Firms: Messrs. Renger Bros., J. J. CUNNINGHAM, Postmaster.

Blames Suspenders.

Phila., Feb. 18.—After serving three weeks in the House of Corrections, sad-eyed George Gee today swore he would never wear another pair of suspenders.

While stealing a ride on the roof of a freight car, George slipped and found himself dangling in mid-air held by his suspenders. A passing policeman stopped the train and "pinched" him. He still has one more week to serve, but warns his keepers never to mention suspenders to him.

*****

BREAKS A COLD, OPENS CLOGGED HEAD AND NOSE

"PAPE'S COLD COMPOUND" ENDS SEVERE COLDS OR GRIPPE IN FEW HOURS.

Relief comes instantly.

A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up. Quit blowing head! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.

PERSONAL

Philip Norton of 201 East 14th St., New York City, says Father John's Medicine cured him of a severe cold and built him up, too.

Father John's Medicine For Coughs and Colds

If you have any difficulty in securing Father John's Medicine from your druggist write to Father John's Medicine, Lowell, Mass., enclosing $1.00 for a large bottle by express prepaid.

ORDER CONSTRUCTION OF SANITARY SEWERS

Council Passes Resolutions in Conformance With Recommendations of Board of Public Works.

Acting on the recommendation of the board of public works, the council passed resolutions ordering the construction of sanitary sewers in districts No. 5, 10, 11, 14 and 15, at the meeting held yesterday afternoon. The resolution to pave South Bluff street with asphalt came from South Third, an Oakland avenue, was passed, and the assessment schedule will be made out by the board of public works within the next week.

The bills for the labor and material for the past two weeks amounting to $10,955.52 were allowed and orders drawn for the amounts. The appropriations remaining in the city treasury are as follows: General, $36,358; fire and water, $21,449; bridge, $22,41, and the like. The amount of the fire and water district is $144,811. The balances remaining in the city treasury are as follows: General, $26,555.25; fire and water, $20,780.42; lighting, $14,057.45; bridge, $8,802.97; 1st ward, $9,893.87; 2d ward, $7,947.33; 3d ward, $7,496.28; 4th ward, $3,452.01 and 5th ward, $1,239.53.

A resolution directing City Clerk J. P. Hammonworth to draw an order for $2,400 and $4,91 to cover an error in the assessment was passed for the owners of lot 2, block 2, Jackson and Smith addition, and lot 2, block 2, George Held addition.

The ordinance fixing the salaries of appointed city employees was given its third reading and passed by the council to become effective ten days after passage. The change does not take place until April when the appointments are made. The pay of the city treasurer, forty dollars, and the salary of the plumbing inspector is fixed at one thousand dollars per year.

The board of public works was ordered to receive samples of road oil for use in oiling the streets in Janesville during the coming summer.

The sewers ordered by the resolution were as follows: District No. 5—Wall street from Center to Madison, two hundred feet; District No. 10—Wall street from South Bluff street to center of Hickory street; Hickory street, from center of Glen to point 450 feet south; District No. 11—Caroline street from North Bluff street to center of Hickory street; Hickory street, from center of Glen to point 450 feet north; District No. 14—Ruger avenue, from center of Elm street to center of Walker street, Fifth avenue, from center of Walker street to a point 425 feet north; Yuba street, from center of Walker street to a point 425 feet north; District No. 15—Geffre Avenue, from center of Racine street to a point 125 feet north of center of Wells street; First Park boulevard, from center of Garfield avenue to South Second street.

PAID BUT 2 CENTS OUT OF POCKET TO BALANCE BOOKS.

In a letter received by Ed. L. Cary, from Portland, Oregon, the writer wishes to call the attention of the Gazette to the fact that the father, the late B. F. Cary, of this city, and treasurer of Rock County from '70 to '76, was but two cents short in balancing his books upon leaving the office. The Gazette stated that his father had to make good in order to balance the books, but did not state the sum.

HANOVER

Hanover, Feb. 17.—Little Rollin Felten was given a surprise party by eleven little girls on Thursday afternoon in honor of his fourth birthday anniversary. The afternoon was spent in playing games, after which a delicious supper was served.

Miss Rachel Ehrlinger very pleasantly entertained twenty-four young people at a Valentine party at the M. W. of A. hall on Friday evening. Games, music, and guessing stunts furnished entertainment during the evening. Prizes were awarded to George Hemingway and Clayton Jackson. A delicious two course supper was served. The out of town guests were Misses Mayme and Emma Borkenhagen and Misses Gretchen and Marie Uehling of Janesville.

Fifteen married couples and their families from here and Plymouth enjoyed a social dancing party at Bonnega's Hall on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palmer of Duncannon, Iowa, spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Shaff and left for their home Tuesday morning.

L. J. Stair went to Madison Tuesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Stuart were guests of Judge Friend Tuesday.

Mr. Harry Rodenbeck went to Monroe Tuesday to visit her people.

Mrs. Oscar Grenzelt and baby were passengers to Albany to visit relatives.

B. H. Rodenbeck was a business visitor in Juda Tuesday.

E. C. Sturt was a passenger to Janesville Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Alice Moon and son, Jesse Miller, were guests of friends in Janesville Tuesday.

Dr. E. W. Fairman was a professional visitor in Janesville Tuesday afternoon.

LIMA

Lima, Feb. 17.—The first automobile of the season appeared on Tuesday.

Carl Bowers of Milton Junction was an over Sunday guest of his grandmother, Mrs. Bowers.

Mrs. Alice Herrington returned on Tuesday from an extended visit in Akron.

Mr. Selden is out of town for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham were out from Janesville Sunday evening.

Mr. Millard has moved into the upper rooms of Mr. Holbrook's building and J. D. Richmond has taken possession of H. J. Dixons house, vacated by Mr. Millard.

W. L. Elphick, Otto Kunkel and A. F. Gould were to Milwaukee last week where Mr. Elphick bought a work team.

Miss Beulah McComb gave a Valentine party on Saturday evening.

Wm. Truman and wife spent Tuesday with relatives in Janesville.

Miss Ruth Boyd was home from Whitewater over Sunday.

The lecture course number given on Friday evening was well attended and very much enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Woodstock is with her son, Fred, and family again.

Clara met with Miss Carrie Johnson today, Plover.

Word was received on Tuesday of the death of Mrs. Henrietta Hadley, at her home near Utters Corners.

PORTER

Porter, Feb. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. L. Fessenden are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy, born Wednesday, Feb. 14. All doing nicely.

Ben Peach lost his valuable driving license last week, the result of the animal falling on the ice and breaking a leg.

Miss Emma Bates attended the teachers' convention at Madison on Friday.

Willie Locke, who is in the hospital, is improving.

Miss Cora Young was tendered a miscellaneous shower on Saturday afternoon at the home of her brother Frank, and it proved a very pleasant affair.

Leslie Viney of Edgerton spent a few days at the home of E. M. Nalan last week.

Karl Becker of Edgerton was an over Sunday visitor at the home of his parents.

IS TO SPEAK HERE OF SOUTH AMERICA

University Professor to Appear at Presbyterian Church to Tell of Travels and Conditions.

Edward Alsworth Ross, Professor of the department of Sociology of the University of Wisconsin, will speak Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock at the Presbyterian church on, "The Spirit of South America." Prof. Ross has recently returned from a period of half a year's travel on practically every mode of locomotion from a burro's back to automobile through the Southern republics, meanwhile studying the social and economic conditions of the people and the south.

Professor Ross traveled over the barren and burned mountains, threedy deserts, forests, watered slopes, grassy llanos, pampas, and flowering savannas. He has visited peoples of almost forgotten aborigines, and surviving Indian types, the lost civilization of the Incas, the descendants of the Early Spaniard and Portuguese, the adventure some Germans, Italians, English and Americans.

The public is invited to attend.

Orfordville News

Orfordville, Feb. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ashby of Janesville were Orfordville visitors on Wednesday.

Mrs. James Mowé went to Lima Center on Wednesday to visit with her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Millard.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Loeger were visitors with friends at Monroe on Wednesday.

Several from Orfordville attended the Chas. Long sale, west of Footville, on Wednesday.

Albert Keesey was appointed village marshal by the board at a special meeting on Tuesday evening.

The lodge of Rebekahs held their regular meeting on Tuesday evening.

There was a good attendance. A class of three candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order.

Gilman Knudson will work the farm known as the Lewis Smiley farm the coming year. He will move there in a short time.

Wm. Allen is enjoying a visit from two others, from Independence, Iowa. They are planning for an indefinite stay.

Word was received on Tuesday evening that Chas. Lee had died at his home in Beloit, on the afternoon of that day. Mr. Lee was born and grew to manhood on a farm in the town of Spring Valley. A few years ago he was married to Miss Lovina Knudson of the town of Newark, and they have since that time made their home in Beloit. Mrs. Lee is also reported as being dangerously ill.

*****

PAID BUT 2 CENTS OUT OF POCKET TO BALANCE BOOKS.

In a letter received by Ed. L. Cary, from Portland, Oregon, the writer wishes to call the attention of the Gazette to the fact that the father, the late B. F. Cary, of this city, and treasurer of Rock County from '70 to '76, was but two cents short in balancing his books upon leaving the office. The Gazette stated that his father had to make good in order to balance the books, but did not state the sum.

*****

HANOVER

Hanover, Feb. 17.—Little Rollin Felten was given a surprise party by eleven little girls on Thursday afternoon in honor of his fourth birthday anniversary. The afternoon was spent in playing games, after which a delicious supper was served.

Miss Rachel Ehrlinger very pleasantly entertained twenty-four young people at a Valentine party at the M. W. of A. hall on Friday evening. Games, music, and guessing stunts furnished entertainment during the evening. Prizes were awarded to George Hemingway and Clayton Jackson.

A delicious two course supper was served. The out of town guests were Misses Mayme and Emma Borkenhagen and Misses Gretchen and Marie Uehling of Janesville.

Fifteen married couples and their families from here and Plymouth enjoyed a social dancing party at Bonnega's Hall on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palmer of Duncannon, Iowa, spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Shaff and left for their home Tuesday morning.

L. J. Stair went to Madison Tuesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Stuart were guests of Judge Friend Tuesday.

Mr. Harry Rodenbeck went to Monroe Tuesday to visit her people.

Mrs. Oscar Grenzelt and baby were passengers to Albany to visit relatives.

B. H. Rodenbeck was a business visitor in Juda Tuesday.

E. C. Sturt was a passenger to Janesville Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Alice Moon and son, Jesse Miller, were guests of friends in Janesville Tuesday.

Dr. E. W. Fairman was a professional visitor in Janesville Tuesday afternoon.

*****

LIMA

Lima, Feb. 17.—The first automobile of the season appeared on Tuesday.

Carl Bowers of Milton Junction was an over Sunday guest of his grandmother, Mrs. Bowers.

Mrs. Alice Herrington returned on Tuesday from an extended visit in Akron.

Mr. Selden is out of town for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham were out from Janesville Sunday evening.

Mr. Millard

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—Yes, Father Also Got a Valentine

SCHOOL TEACHING EXHAUSTING WORK

Miss Rosa M. Keller's Struggle to Keep Up—How Vinol Helped to Ward Off Nervous Breakdown.

Albertis, Pa.—"I am a teacher in the public schools and I got into a very nervous, run-down condition. I could not sleep and had no appetite. I was tired all the time."

"My sister told me how Vinol had built up her nephew and asked me to try it. I did so, and within a week after taking Vinol my appetite improved and I could sleep all right and now I feel well and strong."

"Vinol is certainly a fine medicine and even the doctors say it is a good tonic."—Rosa M. Keller, Albertis, Pa.

The reason Vinol restored Miss Keller to her normal health was because in a natural manner it sharpened her appetite, aided digestion, strengthened her nerves, and as a result brought the refreshing sleep she needed.

If there is anyone in this vicinity, run-down, weak, nervous, worn out and who cannot sleep, we ask you to try Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, on our guarantee to build you up and make you feel better, eat better, sleep better, or return your money. Smith Drug Co., Janesville, Wis., and at leading drug stores everywhere.

ARDENNE HORSES CAPTURED BY GERMANS WILL BE SOLD.

(By ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Berlin, Feb. 18.—Three hundred Ardenne horses, taken by the German army in the agricultural districts of France, are to be put up for sale by auction in Berlin with the idea of making them the basis for a new breed of horses for agricultural purposes in Germany. The Government circular declares that the horses are most easily maintained and least subject to severe changes of climate of any breeds known.

The auction list also mentions a number of Belgian horses and a few English farm horses, which were captured in France.

THE AWFUL FIRE OF ECZEMA

Is Instantly Relieved by the New Preparation—NOX-EMA.

Obstinate Cases Have Been Permanently Healed With a Few Applications. Pimples, Salt Rheum, Itching Piles, Chafing, Chapped Hands and all Skin Irritations are Soothed and Healed—Pain Stops at Once.

A Free Trial Package Mailed for 2c Stamp

The awful burning and itching of the most obstinate and aggravated cases of eczema, salt rheum or itching piles is instantly relieved with NOX-EMA, and it does not stain or soil the skin or clothes. Has no objectionable odor and quickly heals all skin irritations, both acute and chronic, and obtrusive cases of pimples, scaly skin, chapped hands and all skin irritations. Humors, ulcers and old sores that have defied various treatments, even operations, quickly disappear when you use NOX-EMA.

NOX-EMA is not a patent medicine. It is prescribed after the formula of a physician of repute who used it in his practice and found it invariably successful. It is for sale at most drug stores at 25c per package. It can be had by mail from the Hennepin Laboratories, Milwaukee, Wis. If you are a sufferer from eczema or any other skin disease you should not delay in getting NOX-EMA. You suffer unnecessary pain and torture every moment you are without it—it is instant relief.

How To Make the Quickest, Simplest Cough Remedy

Much Better than the Ready-Made Kind and You Save 42% Fully Guaranteed

This home-made cough syrup is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy. Its promptness, ease and certainty in conquering distressing coughs, chest and throat colds, is really remarkable. You can actually feel it take hold. A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough—relieves even whooping cough quickly. Splendid, too, for bronchitis, spasmodic cough, bronchial asthma and winter coughs.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it in a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This gives you—at a cost of only 53 cents—a full pint of better cough syrup than you could buy for $2.50. Take but a few minutes to prepare. Full directions with Pinex. Tastes good and never spoils.

You will be pleasantly surprised how quickly it loosens dry, hoarse or tight coughs, and heals the inflamed membranes in a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, which is so healing to the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, be sure and ask your druggist for "2½ ounces Pinex," and don't accept anything else.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with its preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

THE LADY AND THE PIRATE

By EMERSON HOUGH

Copyright, 1913, by Emerson Hough

I met John coming down with the ninety-three. As he returned on deck a moment later I pushed shut the hatches.

HELENA did not look at me, but studiously gazed across the river, pretended to yawn, idly looked back to see if she were followed, as she knew she was not to be.

At length she turned as she stepped along the deck. She was fresh as the dew itself and like a rose.

She turned, I say, and by mere chance and in great surprise discovered me, now cap in hand and bowing.

"Oh!" she remarked, very much surprised.

"Good morning, Eve," said I. "Have you used somebody's soap, or what is it that you have used? It is excellent."

A faint color came to her cheek; the corners of her bowed lips twitched.

"For a pirate or a person of no culture you do pretty well. As though a girl could sleep after all this hullabaloo!"

"You have slept very well," said I. "You never looked better in all your life, Helena. And that is saying the whole litany."

"You are absurd," said she. "You must not begin it all again. We settled it once."

"We settled it twenty times or, to be exact, thirteen times, Helena. The only trouble is it would not stay settled. Tell me, is there any one else yet, Helena?"

"It is not any question for you to ask or for me to answer." She was cold at once. "I've not tried to hear of you or your plans, and I suppose the same is true of you. It is long since I have had a headache over you. A headache is all you can give me now or ever could. That is why I cannot in the least understand why you are here now. Auntie is almost crazy, she is so frightened. She thinks you are entirely crazy and believes you have murdered Mr. Davidson."

"I have not yet done so, although it is true I am wearing his shoes or at least his waistcoat. How do you like it?"

"I like the one with pink stripes better," she replied demurely.

"So then—so then?" I began, but choked in anger at her familiarity with Cal Davidson's waistcoat. And my anger grew when I saw her smile.

"Tell me, are you engaged to him, Helena?" I demanded. "But I can see. You are." She drew herself up as she stood, her hands behind her back.

"A fine question to ask, isn't it? Especially in view of what we both know."

"But you haven't told me."

"And am not going to."

"Why not?"

"Because it is the right of a middle-aged woman like myself."

"Twenty-four," said I.

"—to do as she likes in such matters. And she doesn't need make any confidences with a man she hasn't seen for years. And for whom she never—she never—"

"Helena," said I, and I felt pale, whether or not I looked it, "be careful. That hurts."

"Oh, is it so?" she blazed. "I am glad if that does hurt."

I bowed to her. "I am glad if it gives you pleasure to see me hurt. I am, Helena."

"But it was not so as to me," I added presently. "Yes, I said goodby to you, that last time, and I meant it. I have tried for years, I believe, with every argument in my power, to explain to you that I loved you, to explain that in every human likelihood we would make a good match of it, that we—we—well, that we'd hit it off fine together, very likely. And then I was well enough off—at first, at least."

"Oh, don't!" she protested. "It is like opening a grave. We buried it all, Harry. It's over. Can't you spare a girl, a middle aged girl of twenty-four, this resurrection? We ended it. Why, Harry, we have to make out some sort of life for ourselves, don't we? We can't just sit down and—"

"No," said I. "I tried it. I gave me a little place far up in the wilderness with what remained of my shattered fortunes—a few acres. And I sat down there and tried that 'and—and' business. It didn't seem to work. But we don't get on much in our parley, do we?"

"Letter have got John?"

"Lessah have got."

"Take it back. Say at once."

"Lessah. At willance."

"Lessah," he said a few moments later. "Catchee letah, them lady, and she say, she say, go to helice!"

"What? What's that, John? She said nothing of the sort."

"Lessah, said them. No catches word, that what she meant. Lady, one time she say, she say, go topside when have got plenty ready for come."

"Go back to your work, John," said I. And I waited with much dignity for perhaps ten minutes or so, before I heard any signs of life from the after suit. Then I heard the door pushed back and saw a head come out, a head with dark tendrils of hair at the white neck's nape and two curly at the temple. She was a vision of lovely sweetness, as though bred as the Belle Helena herself.

CHAPTER X.

In Which Is Further Parley With the Captive Maiden.

HELENA did not look at me, but studiously gazed across the river, pretended to yawn, idly looked back to see if she were followed, as she knew she was not to be.

At length she turned as she stepped along the deck. She was fresh as the dew itself and like a rose.

She turned, I say, and by mere chance and in great surprise discovered me, now cap in hand and bowing.

"Oh!" she remarked, very much surprised.

"Good morning, Eve," said I. "Have you used somebody's soap, or what is it that you have used? It is excellent."

A faint color came to her cheek; the corners of her bowed lips twitched.

"For a pirate or a person of no culture you do pretty well. As though a girl could sleep after all this hullabaloo!"

"You have slept very well," said I. "You never looked better in all your life, Helena. And that is saying the whole litany."

"You are absurd," said she. "You must not begin it all again. We settled it once."

"We settled it twenty times or, to be exact, thirteen times, Helena. The only trouble is it would not stay settled. Tell me, is there any one else yet, Helena?"

"It is not any question for you to ask or for me to answer." She was cold at once. "I've not tried to hear of you or your plans, and I suppose the same is true of you. It is long since I have had a headache over you. A headache is all you can give me now or ever could. That is why I cannot in the least understand why you are here now. Auntie is almost crazy, she is so frightened. She thinks you are entirely crazy and believes you have murdered Mr. Davidson."

"I have not yet done so, although it is true I am wearing his shoes or at least his waistcoat. How do you like it?"

"I like the one with pink stripes better," she replied demurely.

"So then—so then?" I began, but choked in anger at her familiarity with Cal Davidson's waistcoat. And my anger grew when I saw her smile.

"Tell me, are you engaged to him, Helena?" I demanded. "But I can see. You are." She drew herself up as she stood, her hands behind her back.

"A fine question to ask, isn't it? Especially in view of what we both know."

"But you haven't told me."

"And am not going to."

"Why not?"

"Because it is the right of a middle-aged woman like myself."

"Twenty-four," said I.

"—to do as she likes in such matters. And she doesn't need make any confidences with a man she hasn't seen for years. And for whom she never—she never—"

"Helena," said I, and I felt pale, whether or not I looked it, "be careful. That hurts."

"Oh, is it so?" she blazed. "I am glad if that does hurt."

I bowed to her. "I am glad if it gives you pleasure to see me hurt. I am, Helena."

"But it was not so as to me," I added presently. "Yes, I said goodby to you, that last time, and I meant it. I have tried for years, I believe, with every argument in my power, to explain to you that I loved you, to explain that in every human likelihood we would make a good match of it, that we—we—well, that we'd hit it off fine together, very likely. And then I was well enough off—at first, at least."

"Oh, don't!" she protested. "It is like opening a grave. We buried it all, Harry. It's over. Can't you spare a girl, a middle aged girl of twenty-four, this resurrection? We ended it. Why, Harry, we have to make out some sort of life for ourselves, don't we? We can't just sit down and—"

"No," said I. "I tried it. I gave me a little place far up in the wilderness with what remained of my shattered fortunes—a few acres. And I sat down there and tried that 'and—and' business. It didn't seem to work. But we don't get on much in our parley, do we?"

"Letter have got John?"

"Lessah have got."

"Take it back. Say at once."

"Lessah. At willance."

"Lessah," he said a few moments

"No. The most charitable thing I can think of is that you are crazy. But what do you intend to do with us? We can't get off the boat, and we can't get any answer to our signals for help."

"So you have signaled?"

"Of course. Waved things, you know."

"Delightful! The passing steamers no doubt thought you a dissipated lot of northern joy riders bound south on some rich man's yacht."

"Instead of two troubled women or a stolen boat."

"Are you engaged to Cal Davidson, Helena?"

"What earthly difference?"

"True, none at all. As you say, I have stolen his boat, stolen his wine, stolen his fried potatoes, stolen his waistcoats. But, bear witness, I drew the line at his neckties. Nowhere else, however?" And as I added this I looked at her narrowly.

"Will you put us ashore?" she asked.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

"And what earthly right has a man to try both roles with a woman—that of discarded and accepted? You chose the first, and I never gave you the last. It is horrible, this sort of talk. It is abominable. For three years we have not met or spoken. I've not had a headache since I told you. Put us ashore!"

"Not till I know the truth," said I.

"About what?"

"Well, for instance, about the waistcoat with pink stripes."

"You are silly."

"Yes. How do you like my suit?"

"I never saw Mr. Davidson wear that one," said she.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

BOY

AMUSEMENTS

Evansville News

AT MYERS THEATRE.—In "The Call of the Cumberlands," a new play dramatized from Charles Neville Buck's popular novel by Hugo B. Koch, one of the most interesting characters is Samson South, the chief of the "South Clan" of mountaineers. South is a raw ignorant man who is transplanted suddenly into New York City. Samson's life in New York is an interesting one, and one of his first acts upon his arrival there was to go into a shop in Bleeker Street and buy a suit of clothes. He had slept in his friend Lescott's studio and when he arose in the morning as he put on his clothes he followed his usual custom of strapping his pistol holster under his left armpit outside his shirt. When he takes off his coat in the shop to try on the new suit, the shopkeeper sees the "gun and anger" at Samson's decision not to buy informs two policemen that Samson is a gun-toter and that "he's got a young cannon strapped to his wishbone." "What's your game?" shortly demanded one of the officers. "Don't you know better than to carry a gun around this town?" "I reckon that's my business ain't it," says Samson. One of the officers raised his club. "Don't ye hit me with that thing, warns ye." The officer laughed as he ran his hand over Samson's hip and chest and brought out the offending weapon. "One must resent gratuitous insult whatever the odds" thinks Samson, so he strikes out and although he puts up a gallant fight the boy went down under a rat-tat of mighty sticks which left him as groggy and easy to handle as a fainting woman. In the end, old Samson is dragged to jail from which he is rescued by his friend Lescott who derives much amusement from the adventure. This is Samson's first lesson in civilization. This same rough ignorant boy afterwards becomes a famous painter and a leader of men. The part of "Samson" is played by Hugo B. Koch, who has given the role a naturalness that only an actor of ability can lend to such an excellent character. The play will be the attraction at the Myers Theatre on Monday, Feb. 22, matinee and night, under the management of Messrs. Grattan & MacVittie, well-known as producers of popular book plays.

AT MYERS THEATER.

Everything, no matter how startling, has an adequate explanation, and consequently, it is easy to explain the phenomenal success of "To-Day," which ran for an entire season at the Myers Theater, and will be seen at Myers Theater, two days, Saturday and Sunday, February 20 and 21st, matinee.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Main are moving into the J. Eastman house on Lincoln street.

The neighbors and friends of Mr.

and Mrs. T. Williams pleasantly surprised them Tuesday evening at their home, presenting them with some beautiful silverware. About fifty enjoyed picnic supper and the evening passed quickly in parlor games and social chat.

Mr. Ervin Gabriel pleasantly entertained at a Royal Neighbor coffee yesterday, the guests going in the morning, enjoying a bountiful dinner and spending the afternoon in cards and social chat.

Local influences for good have been constantly bringing attendance upon this play because it is one of vital importance, and the result has been that "To-Day," long established as the drama first in the affection of theatregoers, has brought thousands of people to witness the performance who are not in the habit of attending the playhouse. It is one of those dramatic miracles that happen so seldome, a play that everyone wishes to see and urges others to do the same.

It has netted a fortune for Harry von Tilzer, the brilliant young producer.

With the distinction of having held the boards longer than any drama during the past New York season,

"To-Day" comes here with a distinguished cast of well known players

among whom may be mentioned

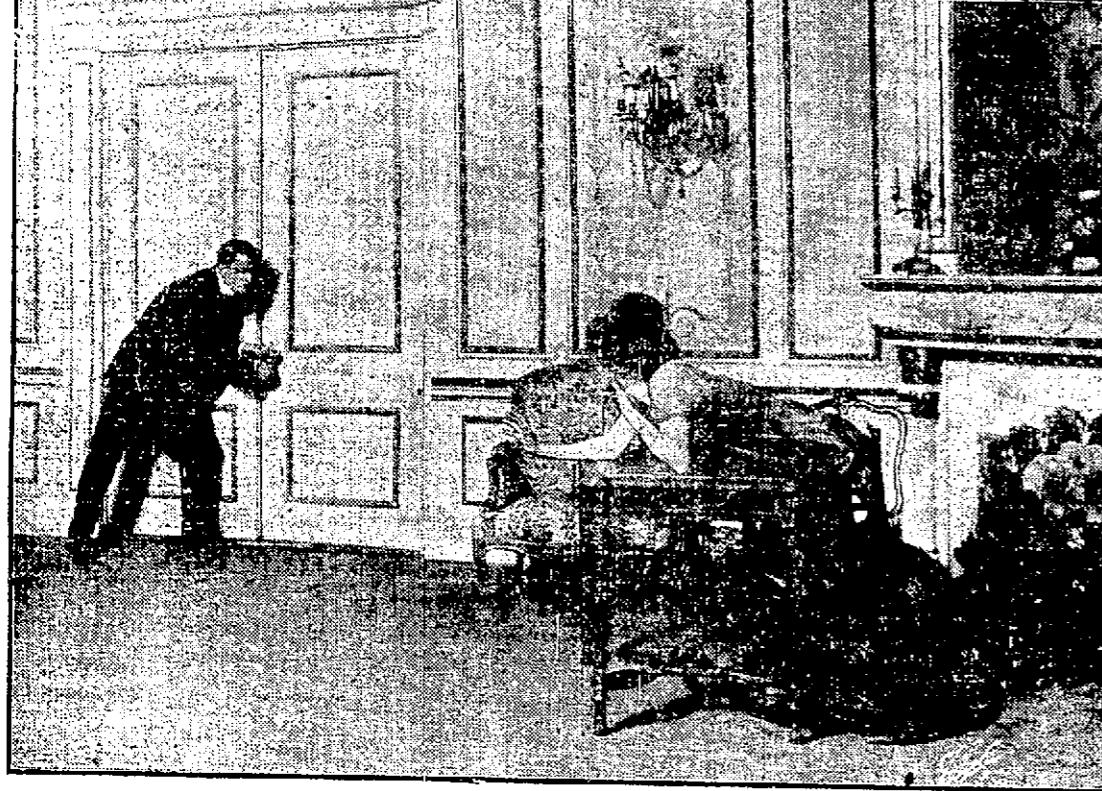

Misses Eleanor Miller, Sara Hubbard,

Marie Reichardt, Marie Dantes, Phoe-be Bates, and Messrs. Haller, Thompson, Anton Asher, Arthur J. Wood and Frank Stone.

An exciting scene in Broadhurst's & Schowlers' big drama of New York life "To-Day" at Myers Theater Saturday and Sunday evenings, February 20th and 21st and a Saturday matinee.

SEES COMING BOOM IN STOCK INDUSTRY

Prominent Wisconsin Breeders Predict Big Opportunities Ahead for Stock Raisers.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Feb. 18.—Despite the recent outbreaks of foot and mouth disease which have temporarily demoralized the livestock industry, Wisconsin stockmen are fully reconciled to the present situation and optimistic as to the future.

Members of the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders' association who attended the meeting of the executive committee of that organization held here this week, expressed themselves as well satisfied with the progress being made in the state to eradicate the epidemic and predicted that more territory would soon be released from the quarantine area. They were confident that the livestock industry of the state, if reasonable effort be put forth to prevent future epidemics, is in an exceedingly promising condition.

Conditions in this country as well as those which will likely result after the close of the World War, are certain to work for the development of the industry.

See Big Opportunities.

"Never before," said one of the best known stockmen in the middle west, "has such a combination of favorable circumstances been presented to American farmers and stockmen, and it is only a question of whether they will see the advantage in time to secure the necessary foundation stock in order to improve a golden opportunity for themselves. Never again will they be able to procure pure bred animals at present prices, and never again will they see them as cheap corn, corn land and foundation livestock."

The following recommendations which directly affect livestock raising in this state were made at this meeting:

That a leg law be enacted which will adequately protect the sheep raising industry, which because of its varied character is of far reaching importance to the farmers of Wisconsin.

That the stockmen who have suffered loss by the slaughter of animals affected with or exposed to foot and mouth disease be properly reimbursed.

That the system of inspection of livestock sold for interstate shipments be improved so as to establish greater confidence on the part of stockmen in other states.

That the community plan of breeding which has been so successful in many sections of the state, be encouraged and that efforts be put forth to extend this system to other than dairy stock.

That the period of payment be extended for another two years period in line with the proposal embodied in the Cunningham bill.

Much Stock Sacrificed.

Dr. O. L. Eliason, state veterinarian.

arian, reported that in all about 1,400 head of cattle, 1,700 sheep, and 1,250 swine infected with or exposed to foot and mouth disease had been slaughtered in this state. This number, while large, is relatively small compared with the totals from Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio and certain of the other states which have been visited by this plague.

The 160 head of Wisconsin cattle held in quarantine near Chicago are apparently in healthy condition, but will be held for closer inspection and further tests, and until the federal and state sanitary officials decide as to the method of handling them after release. Charles L. Hill of Rosendale, a member of the executive committee of the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders' association, is the president of the association of visitors who showed cattle at the last dairy show and have their show herds in quarantine at the present time.

BAKER TIRED OF ROAD LIFE; THAT'S WHY HE QUIT MACKS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Frappé, Md., Feb. 18.—"Home Run" Baker was found resting comfortably at his home here today and confirmed the statement made by Connie Mack last night in every detail. When asked why he quit, Baker said:

"I have had in mind all winter that it would be more comfortable down here on the farm than jaunting around the country. I am sick and tired of traveling on the road, so I notified Connie that I would not play again. No more world-wide touring for me."

"If the yearning for the big show ever gets too strong for me to withstand, Connie Mack is the first man I shall ask for a job. He's the greatest ever, and if he could use me I would be only too glad to join the old team."

Really, I feel like a youngster leaving home for the first time. It's hard to get out when you feel like continuing, but I don't need the money so badly, and I am going to please my own fancy."

BADGERS PLAY BURDUE ON FRIDAY NIGHT AT MADISON

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Feb. 8.—The Badger basketball team returned today from Columbus, where it defeated Ohio State last night. Purdue will play here Friday night. The Badgers feel confident of winning the remaining games on their schedule, although Chicago and Illinois are looked upon as the championship contenders.

A PERSONAL STATEMENT.

There are many "honey and tar" preparations that cost the dealer half as much but sell at the same price as the original and genuine Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. We never offer these imitations and substitutions. We know you will buy Foley's whenever you need a cough syrup if you once use it. People come long distances for the true FOLEY'S—over thirty years the leading remedy for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchial and lagripe coughs.—W. T. Sherer.

They are always worth a hundred cents on the dollar and are payable on demand.

THE BANK OF EVANSVILLE

Founded 1870.

GEO. L. PULLEN, President

pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Beldon Bryan left Tuesday for their home at Grand Junction, Colorado, after an extended visit with local relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Tilley have spent several days visit with their daughter, Mrs. Luther Graham and family of this city.

FOUND—Sum of money between Clarke's store and depot, Wednesday evening. Owner can have same by notice. Call at Review Office, 25-2-13.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, Feb. 18.—Phillis Campbell of Milton Junction, was visiting friends in this city yesterday.

Joe Leary is a business caller in Janesville yesterday.

The Girls' Literary society met in the high school auditorium last evening and discussed several interesting topics. The girls of the society have organized a debating team and will have some very interesting debates.

The senior class of the Edgerton high school enjoyed aleigh ride last evening to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke, where they were served supper, and the remainder of the evening spent in playing various games.

They were chaperoned by Miss Edith

Heidner.

The Edgerton basketball team won from the Milton five last evening in the high school gym, by a score of

2 to 1. G. Williams and Whitford starred for Edgerton. Fred Holt refereed

the game. Twenty-five rooters accompanied the Milton team to this city.

The junior group of the Y. M. C. A.

met in the high school gym last night and played an interesting game of basketball.

The Epworth League of the M. E.

church served the supper at the church last evening.

Why Good Men Are Busy.

"Marry a busy man," advises Helen Rowland. "It can't be done legally. All the busy men are married. That's what makes them busy."

Smith's Pharmacy.

Frank Pease is a business caller in Janesville today.

Those registering at the Carlton

Wednesday were: F. O. McLone, A.

C. Wals, Leo Farrel, Chicago, L. J.

Brill, M. T. Cornwell, L. S. Wallace,

George Williams, James Woodward,

F. H. Horder, Milwaukee, J. T. Fathers,

Janeville, E. W. Bartley, Racine.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartley last evening.

They were chaperoned by Miss Edith

Heidner.

The Edgerton basketball team won

from the Milton five last evening in the high school gym, by a score of

2 to 1. G. Williams and Whitford starred for Edgerton. Fred Holt refereed

the game. Twenty-five rooters accompanied the Milton team to this city.

The Edgerton basketball team won

from the Milton five last evening in the high school gym, by a score of

2 to 1. G. Williams and Whitford starred for Edgerton. Fred Holt refereed

the game. Twenty-five rooters accompanied the Milton team to this city.

The Edgerton basketball team won

from the Milton five last evening in the high school gym, by a score of

2 to 1. G. Williams and Whitford star-

AUCTIONS

We know that advertising an auction in the Janesville Gazette is an assurance that nearly every home within a driving radius will know of that auction. And, that as result the sale will be better attended, BUT

We want everyone to know it and with that in mind we will pay One Dollar for every letter telling of successful sales because of Gazette advertising.

Give us the facts. Don't try to write a flowery letter. It need not be longer than a couple of sentences. Just write us what you would say to us personally and we will mail you back a dollar bill.

AUCTION DEPARTMENT. THE JANESEVILLE GAZETTE.

FOR SALE—Single type rack with complete lot of new type cases. Very low price if taken at once. Gazette Office. 13-11-13-14

FOR SALE—First class horse or cow feed. $1 per hundred weight. Doty Mill. 13-10-17-14

PAPER TOWELS AND FIXTURES—Sanitary and economical for schools and public buildings, groceries, work rooms, etc., indispensable for the kitchen, 25¢ per roll, $9 case of 50 rolls. Gazette Printing Dept., Phone 77-4 rings Bell, 27 Rock Co. 13-12-14

BICYCLE SUPPLIES—Premo Brothers. 13-11-23-14

FOR SALE—Large warehouse hand truck, 7 feet long, made for handling heavy barrels, rolls of paper, etc. Cost $25.00, price $10.00. Gazette Office. 13-11-13-14

FOR SALE—Engraved cards, wedding invitations and announcements engraved and embossed. Stationery produced in the very latest and newest letter designs. We have connections with several engraving houses which give us very good service. Call phone Rock Co. 77-4, for Fritting Department of the Gazette.

FOR SALE—Two 3x10 woven wire steel frame farm gates, Janesville Barb Wire Co. make. Half price if taken at once. Inquire at Gazette office. 13-1-20-14

WANTED—Immediately, two waitresses, silver girl and for private house. Mrs. E. McCarthy, etc. 4-2-16-14

SITUATION WANTED, MALE

Announcement of those needing work and unable to pay will be inserted three times free of charge.

WANTED—Reliable girl for house work. Mrs. F. P. Durkee, 314 St. Lawrence Ave. 4-2-18-14

HOUSEKEEPER WANTED—in the country for two men. Address "B. F. Gazette." 4-2-18-14

WANTED—Waitress and chamber maid about thirty years of age preferred. Apply Hotel Clinton, Clinton, Wis. 4-2-17-14

WANTED—At once, experienced dish washer at the Home Restaurant. 4-2-16-14

WANTED—Immediately, two waitresses, silver girl and for private house. Mrs. E. McCarthy, etc. 4-2-16-14

FEMALE HELP WANTED

WANTED—Reliable girl for house work. Mrs. F. P. Durkee, 314 St. Lawrence Ave. 4-2-18-14

WANTED—Housekeeper wanted—in the country for two men. Address "B. F. Gazette." 4-2-18-14

WANTED—Waitress and chamber maid about thirty years of age preferred. Apply Hotel Clinton, Clinton, Wis. 4-2-17-14

WANTED—At once, experienced dish washer at the Home Restaurant. 4-2-16-14

WANTED—Immediately, two waitresses, silver girl and for private house. Mrs. E. McCarthy, etc. 4-2-16-14

MALE HELP WANTED

WANTED—An energetic ambitious active man to establish permanent business. Health and Accident Insurance. Immediate cash return and future. Address National Casualty Company, Detroit, Mich. 5-2-17-14

WANTED—Married man with small family for general work on farm. State experience and wages in first letter. J. K. Bemis, Hanover, Rte. 1, or telephone Footville 14-9-9. 5-2-16-14

AGENTS WANTED

WE STRIVE to keep from this page all unreliable firms. Let us know if you answer a fake. We will prosecute them.

HOUSES WANTED

WANTED TO RENT—Five, or six room house by March 1. Old phone 1384. 12-2-18-14

FAMILY OF TWO desires to rent small house with bath, March 1. Rock Co. phone 709. Black. 12-2-16-14

WANTED TO RENT—House, barn, 3 or 4 acres land. Address W. H. Gatzelle. 12-2-15-14

WANTED, MISCELLANEOUS.

PAINTING AND PAPERHANGING—Prices reasonable. New phone 887. Red. 6-2-16-14

WANTED—Customers for strictly fresh eggs. Rock County Telephone 5592-G. 6-2-16-14

WANTED—500 pounds clean cotton wiping rags. Gazette Office. 1-21-14

FURNISHED ROOMS TO RENT

FOR RENT—Modern, furnished room. Call new phone blue 461 after seven P. M. 8-2-17-14

FOR RENT—Three furnished rooms for light housekeeping with gas. 502 Linn St. 8-2-17-14

STORES FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Store, 27 South Main street. E. N. Fredendall. 47-12-28-14

HOUSES FOR RENT

FOR RENT—On sale—8 room brick house, 107 N. Bluff St. well and clean. Inquire Badger Drug Co. 11-2-17-14

FOR RENT—House, corner of Madison and Ravine streets. Phone 720 Blue. 11-2-17-14

FOR RENT—House, corner South Main and Sharon street. Inquire M. D. Murdock. 11-2-17-14

FOR RENT—Modern house at 410 Jackson street. Inquire at house. 11-2-11-14

FOR RENT—Seven room house, city water and gas. L. A. Babcock, 415 No. Bluff. 11-2-14-14

FLATS FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Flats, 502 Center Ave. 45-2-13-14

HOUSEHOLD GOODS FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Walnut bed set, mattress and springs. 224 Madison. 13-2-17-14

FOR SALE—Second hand stove, $5.00 up. W. H. Smith, 71 South River street. 16-1-22-14

FOR SALE, MISCELLANEOUS

FOR SALE—Split bur oak posts has R. Van Galder. New phone 13-2-17-14

FOR SALE—Oak wood by cord. Emb. wood by the load. Charles R. Van Galder. New phone. Call evenings. 13-2-18-14

FOR SALE—Milliner's display case, can be used for a variety of purposes. Size 6 ft. 2 inches by 30 inches. 3 ft. high with four drawers. Drawers, has French mirror 5 ft. long and 3 inches wide. Mahogany. finished. Price for quick sale $25. Donly & Bailes. 13-2-17-14

PIANO BOXES FOR SALE—Lytle's piano store. 13-2-17-14

FOR SALE—One pair of boy's rubber boots, size 2, worn but little, cost $3.00 will sell them for $1. Robert Miss. 120 Jackman St. Phone 512. 13-2-16-14

FOR SALE—Good second hand grain bags. 17 cents apiece. Doty's Mill. 13-2-17-14

FOR SALE—Complete map of Rock County, showing all roads, school houses, churches, towns, villages, 5 acres and all information. Printed on strong bond paper, handy size. Price extra strong map cloth backed, $2 or free with a year's advance subscription to the Daily Gazette.

HIGH GRADE BICYCLES. C. H. Cox. 48-12-30-14

PREMO BROTHERS for Bicycles. 48-11-24-14

Advertise Your Seeds Now

Right now is the time to start advertising seeds of all kinds for spring planting. The demand will soon be felt and the consideration of where to buy is being given thought now.

A great deal of weight will be given to early advertising as a result. It is the early advertiser that will have the greatest effect on the mind of the prospective purchaser and secure the bulk of the orders.

This page offers the best means of reaching the most people at the least cost. Sales will naturally follow a properly worded advertisement.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

DR. JAMES MILLS

SPECIALIST

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat

Glasses Properly Fitted.

Dr. A. L. Burdick

Practice limited to diseases of

EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT

Glasses of all kinds accurately fitted.

Suite 221 Hayes Block.

Patent Attorney

RICHARD S. C. CALDWELL, formerly of Morsell & Caldwell, Patents, Trade Marks and Copyrights, 815 Majestic Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

A. J. PRATT

AUCTIONEER

613 West Main Street

STOUGHTON, WIS.

Long Distance Phone 415X.

OXYGEN WELDING

Steam and Hot Water Heating

Coal Chutes, any weight.

F. O. AMBROSE

Machine and Boiler Shop

111-113 N. Main St.

Moving

A Fine

Piano

At Smith's Drug Store

Both Phones.

We offer a modern home, seven rooms with bath on North Washington street. Price is right.

Owner wants to move away.

See, Scott & Jones

Beef, Iron and Wine

That old remedy for sickly children, run down, tired feeling in half people. Try our home made

Beef, Iron and Wine. Badger Drug

Co., Corner Milwaukee and River

Streets.

Wanted

LOST—Small blue Mosaic pin somewhere on Main and Milwaukee streets, Wednesday morning. Finder

call 1150 Blue. 25-2-18-14

FOUND—Sum money, Mineral Point Ave.

Can have same by paying for ad. Inquire 2144 Mineral Point Ave.

25-2-17-14

LOST—February 15, white bull dog on Janesville-Edgerton road. Nth

August. Schmalz or call Rock

County phone 5596 A. 25-2-16-14

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF HEARING.

STATE OF WISCONSIN.

County Court for Rock County.

In Probate.

Notice is hereby given that at a

Special Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County in the Court House, in the City of Janesville, in said County, on the first

Tuesday, being the 25th day of March,

1915, at 9 o'clock a. m. the following matter will be heard and considered: The application of George G.

Sutherland to admit to Probate in his County, the Last Will and Testament of Sarah E. Dwyer.

Notice is hereby given that at a

Special Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County in

the Court House, in the City of Janesville, in said County, on the third

Tuesday, being the 16th day of March,

MILWAUKEE BOARD WANTS CIVIL SERVICE FOR COUNTY OFFICES

Committee After Investigation Makes Report Favoring Legislation Which Will Affect All Counties.

Milwaukee, Wisc., Feb. 18.—Legislative action which will vitally affect the politics of every county in Wisconsin is presaged by the report of the legislative committee of the City club, regarding employees of Milwaukee county.

According to the report, over one-third of the 600 county employees hold their jobs by virtue of political "pull," is preparing a bill, to be introduced during this term of the legislature, which will put practically every county employee in the state under civil service.

Included in the report were the following statements:

The county has 600 employees of whom only 10 are under civil service.

The 40 employees who are under civil service have been on the county payroll an average period of 8 years, while others have been on the payroll rolls an average of less than 2 years.

The board of supervisors elects by ballot the elevator men and janitor at the court house.

All the male employees at the court house were discharged, for political reasons, in January, 1914, and inexperienced men appointed.

Deputy sheriffs average less than 2 years' experience, while city police officers average 11 years on the force. Every deputy sheriff was discharged, for political reasons, in January, 1913, and inexperienced men appointed. A newly elected register of deeds let 16 experienced clerks go when he came into office, and substituted inexperienced men.

A newly elected clerk of circuit courts turned out every employee in that office when he came in.

The payrolls of the sheriff, clerk of the circuit court, register of deeds, district attorney, coroner, county clerk, and county treasurer in June, 1914, revealed, the report says, that the great majority of the employees appointed by these elected executives, began their service in January, 1913. This is due, it says, to the fact that the political control of the county changed at that date. It was also alleged that a number of employees had been discharged in January, 1911, and re-employed in January 1913. If these men were efficient, says the committee, they should not have been discharged in 1911; if they were inefficient, they should not have been employed in 1913.

Neither the last sheriff nor the undersheriff had had any experience in the service previous to taking office in January, 1913, continues the report. The superior officers of the police force, however, average 19 years experience on the force. The chief has 37 years, and all inspectors, captains, and lieutenants of police in this city have been with the department at least six years.

Deputies receive $1,200 a year from the beginning of their service; policemen receive only $960 the first year and only $1,140 after six years. The county thus pays about $10,000 more a year than would be paid under the civil service.

The committee concludes with the following declaration:

"Competent, trained men and women should be selected for county positions. Faithful service should be rewarded, not by discharge, but by permanent employment, increased salary, and whenever practicable, by promotion. Knowledge of old records and transactions is invaluable to the administration of the offices. Many county duties require familiarity with certain laws. And yet, the voters to create a system which brings about what they have learned enough about their work to become really valuable in the service. Such a system should be changed at once."

MISS HAZEL STEWART WEDS CLARENCE LAWTON MONDAY

Albion, Feb. 17.—On Monday evening at eight o'clock Miss Hazel Marie Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stewart, was united in marriage to Clarence Lawton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lawton, of this village, at the home of the bride's parents.

Rev. Sayre reading the marriage vows. Miss Lutie Ehlenfeldt, a friend of the bride attended her as bridesmaid. Mr. Lawton was attended by Wayland Green, a friend of the groom.

The bride wore a white crepe de chine trimmed with shadow lace. Her bouquet was of white roses. Miss Ehlenfeldt was dressed in white and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Immediately after the ceremony a delicious supper was served in the dining room by the Misses Marjorie Bliven, Edna Emerson, Ruth Stillman, Vine Nible. The room was tastefully decorated in green and white and red roses.

Hearliest congratulations are extended by all. They departed on a short wedding trip.

The Albion academy team went over to Milton Tuesday night, where they were defeated in a game of basketball by the Milton Junction team by a score of 32 to 34.

The Willing Workers' society was entertained at Mrs. George Walter's Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Emma Hileson fell Wednesday evening and sprained her ankle.

Master Walter Kreuger is on the sick list.

Professor Torgerson of the academy is in Madison this week on business.

Harry Lawton is visiting his parents in this village.

The Edgerton boys were up Wednesday evening and played a game of basketball with the Albion eighth grade boys. The score resulted in a victory for the Albion boys of 12 to 18.

A number from here attended the fireman's ball at Edgerton Monday evening. An enjoyable time was reported by all.

Miss Elizabeth Stark visited friends in Milwaukee and Chicago over the week end.

Daily Thought.
Politeness appears to have been invented to enable people who would naturally fall out, to live together in peace.

Let the want ads help you to get anything you want.

Beautiful Trimmed Hats at 50c to $1
Including Beaver Shapes

We have our New Fixtures Installed for our Dry Goods Department and Spring Merchandise will be Arriving Soon.

All of the better Hats up to $10
now

$2.98

In the meantime we are making wonderfully low prices on Winter Goods Suits, Coats, Furs, Dresses, Waists, etc.

Under the new way we will not have room for the Millinery Department and will discontinue. You have a long time yet before you want to appear in spring attire and it will be cold, so come and get some of the best things at the low prices.

4 Pairs of 35c Gordon Hose for $1.00

WATCH US GROW

POND & BAILEY

WATCH US GROW

Broken Sizes in Waists at 29c

This Is No Going Out of Business Sale, but the Biggest of Big Sales Will Start Tomorrow,
Friday, Feb. 19th. Doors Open at 9 A.M.

$10,000 Stock Of Men's, Women's and Children's Clothing

to be turned into cash in the next ten days.

We are overloaded in stock. We have slashed the prices at less than manufacturer's cost. We are not looking for profits.

We have thrown profits to the winds. We must have cash.

BANG! BANG!
This big sale for 10 days only

LADIES' SUITS

|   |               |
|---|---------------|
| 18 Ladies' Suits, $10.00 to$12.00 values..... | $2.98 |
| 21 Ladies' Suits, $15.00 to $18.00 values ..      | $4.98 |
| 16 Ladies' Suits, $20.00 to $35.00 values ..      | $6.98 |

Never Again Will the Ladies of Janesville See Such Bargains.

$2,000 WORTH OF FURS GOING AT LESS THAN HALF PRICE. DON'T MISS THIS.

48 Men's Suits and Overcoats —former values $12.50 to $15.00, going at .....
$6.98

36 Men's Suits and Overcoats—former values $16.50 to $18.00, going at .....
$9.50

IT WILL COST YOU NOTHING TO SEE THESE BARGAINS.
IF YOU DON'T SEE WHAT WE ADVERTISE—DON'T BUY.

Fare paid to out of town buyers living within a radius of 50 miles, on a purchase of $10 or over. It will pay you to come 200 miles to this sale

Mr. Klassen In Charge of Sale.

Don't Miss
This Sale

Klassen's
WEARING APPAREL
FOR MEN AND WOMEN

27 W. MILWAUKEE ST.
Janesville, Wis.

This is a Cash Sale
We Need The Money
Positively No Goods Charged
Open Saturday Evening Until 10:30 P. M.
ALTERATIONS FREE